Merchants To Return To Eastern Standard Time, On Saturday

After a general discussion of the time question in New Castle, members of the Merchants Division of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce, meeting in the board of directors room of the chamber, Thursday, voted to return to the old time schedule which was in effect here prior to April 28. The new schedule of hours will become effective tomorrow.

In making this decision, the merchants took the attitude that they are not taking issue with anyone on the question, but are adopting a schedule of hours which will meet the demands of the public. Their business is to serve the public to the best of their ability, and with part of the city going on fast time and part going on slow time, they could not consistently serve all of the public on Daylight Savings Time, but would be able to do so on Eastern Standard Time, they assert.

Business Affected

Since Daylight Savings Time has been adopted by a portion of the population here, the merchants state

Allocations Of Project Funds Is Announced

First Billion Of Work-Relief Fund Is Apportioned By Committee

MILLION AT WORK BY JUNE 30, AIM

Expect To Have 3,500,000 On Projects By End Of August

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 17.—One million unemployed off the relief rolls and at work on relief projects by June 30.

One million, five hundred thousand more at work by July 31.

One million more, a total of 3,500,000, at work by August 31.

This was the ambitious program the administration launched today, after a period of three and one-half months of congressional and organization delays on the $4,000,000,000 work relief act. The first definite allocations of funds for projects awaited signature of President Roosevelt.

Allot Over Billion

Allotments totaling $1,091,802,200, approved by the advisory committee on allotments are expected to make possible the employment of approximately 1,000,000 workers by the end of June under the program mapped out by the committee and chiefs of the divisions in charge of the vast program.

Projects that provide the greatest percentage of direct labor formed the chief part of the $1,091,802,200 program.

Highways, road and street construction, and grade crossing elimination, on which statisticians for the PWA and the FERA figure from 85 to 90 per cent of funds go to wages, received the bulk of the first allotments—$500,000,000.

Start 9,000 Mile Trip With Serum To Point Barrow

"Errand Of Mercy" Being Undertaken By Young Bacteriologists

(International News Service)

NEWARK, N. J., May 17.— Two young bacteriologists took off from Newark airport early today on the first leg of a 9,000 mile "errand of mercy" to Point Barrow, Alaska, where influenza germs have caused countless deaths within the past few weeks.

They were Dr. Horace Pettit, 32, of the Pennsylvania medical school, and his assistant, Dr. Dickinson S. Pepper, 28. They had with them a new serum, recently developed, and never before used to cure the disease.

Point Barrow was said by Dr. Pettit to be in "a state of terror" as the result of the epidemic, which, in one day, accounted for 13 deaths. Most of the victims are Eskimos, and, according to the Doctor, there are but 15 white residents.

They expect to return about May 31st, and will bring with them virus obtained from the mouths of several of the victims for experimental purposes and research.

SANTA MARIA, Cal., May 17.—Eddie Vail, one of California's real cowmen, and I are prowling through here. This is a mighty pretty little town, they raise more different things in this part of the country.

Lompoc near here is great fields of flowers (thousands of acres) for commercial use. Think of seeing a thousand acres of just flowers, then out of the same ground they take a kind of sand stone for insulation. Then a big sugar beet factory, and the biggest mustard fields in America. Cattle by the thousands.

Piece in the local paper about Mr. Hoover coming out against the NRA, also one about Jack Garner issuing statement, I don't believe that. Garner thinks but don't talk.

Governor Signs New Relief-Tax State Measures

Federal Aid Of $7,000,000 Is Sent To Carry Relief Until June

CIGARET TAX BILL SLIGHTLY DELAYED

Legislators Now Believe That Adjournment Date Is In Sight

By G. EVERETT DOYING
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Pa., May 17.—Only odds and ends remained today to put the relief-tax program on the statute books as the deadlock-weary legislature girded for the final surge of bills with adjournment in sight.

General appropriation bills to provide operating expenses and subsidies for the next two years were expected to start moving next week. Efforts also were expected to get controversial labor legislation moving more rapidly in the senate, a phase of his program Gov. George H. Earle has demanded be adopted.

These two issues appeared to be the most important left for action before adjournment. A variety of other disputed measures, however, were to be brought up for a vote while these matters are being ironed out. Including in the list were Sunday movies and horse racing

Governor Signs Tax Bills.

Tax bills estimated to raise $35,675,000 during the next year for relief and a like amount the following year for general budget purposes were signed by Governor Earle. They were pushed through final legislative stages in double-quick time, sharply contrasting with previous prolonged delays.

The imposts signed by the executive were the levies on corporate incomes, to raise $12,675,000 each year; documents, to raise $250,000; manufacturers' capital stock, carrying a new setup of franchises taxes on out-of-state corporations, to raise $18,000,000, and bills increasing the gross reciepts tax on utilities to 14 mills, to raise $2,000,000, and reducing the time for escheating bank deposits, to raise $500,000.

All of these bills were pushed thru the senate by a coalition of Republicans and Democrats and sent back to the house for concurrence in amendments. Like school children waiting for summer vacation, the senate then waited the brief few minutes it took for the house to act favorably, completed the last routine formalities necessary to dispatch the bills to Governor Earle and then quit for the week.

Only the cigaret tax of one cent on each 10 "smokes" failed to make the entire trip to the executive's desk. It was given senate approval but was diverted to conference committee to straighten out several disputed features.

Federal Aid of $7,000,000 Sent.

Necessity for speeding this and the remaining three taxes embodied in the program to make up the required $60,000,000 for relief to enactment was obviated after the senate acted when federal authorities agreed to continue the flow of relief funds into the state. Checks for $7,000,000 were dispatched at once from Washington.

The last three measures were to be approved by the house next week and sent to the senate where passage is assured on the basis of the strength shown by the coalition.

BEAVER-MAHONING WATERWAY PROJECT FUND RECOMMENDED

Allocation From Federal Funds For Start Of Work Appears Certain

EARLY START OF WORK POSSIBLE

Advisory Committee Approves Fund At Meeting Last Night

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 17.—Canalization of the Beaver and Mahoning rivers today appeared more assured than ever before, after President Roosevelt's advisory committee on allotments had approved apportionment of $5,000,000 in Federal Work-Relief funds to the Beaver-Mahoning project.

The advisory committee, which will pass on all projects included in the administration's gigantic new Work-Relief program, met until late Thursday with the president. A few hours later it announced that an allocation of $5,000,000 to commence the Beaver-Mahoning improvement had been recommended to Mr. Roosevelt. Recommendation by the committee is regarded as virtually assuring the allotment.

The $5,000,000, the committee reported, would be used by army engineers in commencing dredging, construction of locks and dams and reservoirs. An additional $32,000,000 would be needed to complete the undertaking.

Army engineers state that this work will provide the needed facilities for navigation in a highly congested manufacturing district," the president's committee reported. They estimate that work can be started in 60 days.

Washington, May 17—Representative Eckert of Beaver, member of the house rivers and harbors committee, expressed himself as elated over the recommendation of the allotment committee that $5,000,000 be assigned the Beaver-Mahoning project. He said he regarded this as a great victory for those who have been fighting for the development.

Seek To Delay Work

(International News Service)

Pittsburgh, May 17.—In a renewal of its fight to prevent construction of the proposed Beaver-Mahoning river canal, the upper Ohio Valley Association today called upon Federal authorities to delay a $5,000,000 allocation for the work until after hearings, scheduled for May 23 and 24, have been held by the Senate Commerce Committee.

In a telegram to senators representing the tri-state district, the association said it was "utterly amazed" by an announcement by the public works administration that five million dollars had been allocated for the canal work. The telegram requested the senators to use their influence in urging the "administration to withhold action until after the commerce committee hearings."

In another telegram to Harry L. Hopkins and Public Works Administrator Harold Ickes, the association voiced a protest against the allocation.

Huge Fund For Highways — Grant To Beaver-Mahoning Waterway

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Approval by President Roosevelt of recommended works-relief projects totaling $1,091,802,000, today resulted in allocations of more than $25,000,000 to the state of Pennsylvania for various projects to be carried out under the new relief program.

Sharing heavily in the sums alloted for the undertaking of the gigantic works plan, Pennsylvania received the third highest grant. Only Texas and New York allotments exceeded those made to the Keystone State.

Of the $25,000,000 total, $11,483,613 was allocated for grade crossing elimination and protection. For highway, road and street improvements, $9,347,797 was earmarked.

Four grants made under the rivers and harbors program directly affected the districts in the western section of the state. These included:

For Waterway Project

Dredging, construction of locks, dams and reservoirs in the Beaver and Mahoning rivers, $5,000,000; Youngstown, O., and Beaver, Pa.

Dredging, lock and dam construction in the Allegheny river at East Brady, Pa., $2,000,000.

Raising level of the Emsworth dam at Pittsburgh on the Ohio river, $1,200,000.

Dam construction on the Tygart river at Grafton, W. Va., $2,000,000.

In addition to the sums allocated for highways and grade crossing elimination, totaling $20,831,410, an additional sum of $4,795,394 was alloted the state from the unappropriated balance of the Hayden-Cartwright Act. This brought the total grants under the works division to $25,626,804.

Sums earmarked under the rivers and harbors program that directly or indirectly affect the state total $10,200,000.

They covered 3,105 miles in their "flight to nowhere," and were in the air 18 hours and 43 minutes. The scheduled flight was actually completed in 18 hours and 23 minutes, but the pilots continued on for another 20 minutes "just to make sure."

that they have noted a gradual falling off in business during the morning hours, and a great increase late in the afternoon. Many of the merchants have been closing their doors when the buying public has still been coming in to make purchases.

It was further stated by the spokesman for the merchants that they have been unable to determine whether a majority of the public is in favor of Daylight Savings Time or not, but they do feel that there is greater sentiment for later closing hours than they are maintaining at the present time.

Merchants Not Originators

The sentiment which was expressed at the meeting was that the merchants did not originate the idea of observing Daylight Savings Time this year, but were invited to go along on the proposition with the idea in mind that the majority of people were in favor of it, and that the city would be governed by the will of the majority.

During the course of the meeting the matter of summer closing hours was discussed and it was unanimously decided to follow the same summer closing schedule as was in force last year, namely, 5 p. m. This will be effective during the three summer months of June, July and August.

The committee recommended $100,000,000 participation by the federal government in the Wisconsin plan, sponsored by the LaFollettes, Senator Bob and Governor Phil. Under this plan, the state proposes to provide $105,714,425 of its own funds for a state-wide works program designed to take all of Wisconsin's unemployed off the relief rolls.

$500,000,000 For Highways

Of the $500,000,000 approved for the bureau of roads and highways, $200,000,000 was designated for highways, road and street construction, $200,000,000 for grade crossing elimination, and $100,000,000 to complete work previously authorized and begun under the Hayden-Cartwright act of the last congress.

Nineteen non-federal PWA projects were approved, with allotments totaling $1,620,000 on a 70 per cent loan, 30 per cent grant basis. These projects, it was announced, are subject, however, to further negotiation between the respective municipalities and Public Works Administrator Harold L. Ickes.

Negro Watchman's Shanty Is Set Afire And Door Barred With Heavy Timber

(International News Service)

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., May 17.—Authorities today were investigating a reported attempt to cremate William Gray, 44-year-old negro watchman for the Walter Chapman Wrecking company, Strattanville.

The shack in which Gray lived was set afire as he slept last night, and the door barred with heavy timber. According to the story told police, Gray awoke when the place became filled with smoke. Unable to get out through the door, Gray finally escaped through a window.

He was found, unconscious, outside the shack. Taken to Brookville hospital, his condition was reported grave.

Gray, hitch-hiking, stopped at Strattanville some time ago and while in town got the job with the wrecking company. Strattanville residents were reported to have resented his presence in town and also the fact that he replaced a white man on the watchman's job.

Instruments of the orchestra players were stacked in the combination baggage-passenger coach attached to the train.

Return On Sunday.

Returning from Madison on Sunday, the train leaves Madison at 8:30 a. m., daylight time, and is due at the west side depot about 11 o'clock, daylight time. On the return trip New Castle's cars will be joined at Chicago with a special carrying the Bellevue high school's class B orchestra back home. Bellevue is competing in class B, the New Castle orchestra in class A.

Word reached Director Replogle late yesterday that the senior high orchestra will compete against 18 other class A orchestras at Madison, commencing at 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon. Results, it was again emphasized, will not be announced until shortly before midnight.

Three Soloists Also.

With the orchestra went three soloists who will carry the banner of senior high onto the contest platform tomorrow.

They were Roger Pecano, entrant in the clarinet solo event; Charles Coulter, entrant in the baritone horn event, and Gilbert Colnot, who will compete with the bassoon solo entrants.

The school also sent its woodwind quintet and its French horn quartet, members of which are in the orchestra's personnel.

Two piano accompanists, Dorothy Fisher and James Fox, were also aboard. They are to provide the accompaniment for the solo contestants.

At the station today to bid the musicians farewell were school officials, board of education members and a host of others who have worked laboriously to raise enough funds to finance the orchestra's trip since the orchestra triumphed in the Pennsylvania contest at Oil City on April 27.

No Place Awards.

At Madison no first, second or third places will be awarded, it was pointed out, because judging is based on a system that places the contestants in groups. The first group means "excellent", the second means "fair" and so on. No exact designation is given.

The following schedule will be followed by the New Castle contestants tomorrow:

9:30 a. m., Madison time—The soloists, Pecano, Coulter and Colnot, will compete.

ANTIQUE DOORS ARE STOLEN FROM MOSQUE

CAIRO.—Two antique doors encrusted with mother-of-pearl and valued at $3,500 each were stolen from the Moheb-El-Din Mosque in Cairo. The doors which measured 5 ft 7 in. by 1 ft. 2 in. are very heavy and were installed in an inner room of the Mosque where the sheikh retired to pray in quiet.

ONE OF THE great figures of the Catholic church was honored by Italy in 1926, when a stamp was issued commemorating the anniversary of the death of St. Francis of Assisi in 1226. The deeds of this great figure were recorded immortally by Giotto, the greatest of the early Italian painters, who recorded his life on the walls of the church at Assisi, where St. Francis was buried. After an idle youth, St. Francis pledged himself to the religious life after a miraculous vision. He took the vow of poverty and his inspiring example became the model for the Franciscan order with its three cardinal virtues of poverty, chastity and obedience.

KEEP ON TOP O' THE WORLD

When you're feeling well, you're usually happy. Life is at its best. But when you're sick and blue, days lose their zest. You lack enthusiasm.

Common constipation, due to insufficient "bulk" in meals, is an enemy of happy living. It frequently causes headaches, loss of appetite and energy. Correct it by eating a delicious cereal.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a natural food for normal persons. It furnishes generous "bulk" to aid elimination. ALL-BRAN also provides vitamin B and iron.

Isn't this gentle food safer than risking patent medicines? Unlike cathartics, it remains effective with continued use. Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal with milk or cream, or use in cooking. Sold by all grocers. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

They are the one-cent gas tax increase, the one-mill mercantile tax hike and the check tax, designed to raise $20,000,000 needed to complete the total.

First receipts from the new revenue program will begin to filter into the treasury about the middle of next month to provide part of the $3,000,000 monthly ante of state funds required by the federal government as Pennsylvania's cash share of the relief load.

The cigaret and documentary taxes, of those which have been passed by both houses, will go into effect on June 15. Both are stamp taxes and will yield revenue continuously. The escheat levies are effective at once. The check and gasoline taxes, of the three levies still on legislative calendars, also will bring in immediate and continuous funds. The total monthly income from the five sources will be about $2,000,000.

The first payments of the utility gross receipts and mercantile taxes will be payable during the summer months on business during the first six months of 1935. These imposts will net approximately $1,500,000 at each semi-annual payment. The manufacturers and out-of-state corporate franchise tax reports will first become due next March 15, with the tax payable at once. The first corporate income tax reports are due next April 15, at which time half the tax must be paid. The other half will be payable May 15, 1936.

JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB ELECTION AND PARTY

Mary E. Wilson will head Junior Woman's club for the coming year, having been elected president Thursday evening, when the group gathered in the Butler avenue home of Miss Barbara Schultz for the annual business reports and spring party. Other officers include: Ruth Sample, vice president; Margaret Guy, recording secretary; Gertrude Chapin, corresponding secretary; Elizabeth Wallace, treasurer; Shirley Holbrook, parliamentarian.

Ruth Sample the retiring president, conducted the meeting during which reports were given by the secretary, Marjorie Wettich; the treasurer, Elizabeth Wallace; Martha McGill for scout committee; Mrs. William McCombs for blind committee; Mary Wilson for membership, in the absence of Mrs. Dale Andrews, chairman.

When the business was concluded, the girls spent the evening socially. They were all gowned in formal dresses of an olden day, which lent distinction to the occasion. Five tables were used for the bridge contests and the guests had fun exchanging "white elephants" which figured in unique rules for the games. The high score awards fell to Ruth Sample, and Mrs. Grace W. Crawford (sponsor of the Junior club). Mrs. Betty Brown, who is visiting here from St. Petersburg, Florida, was presented a guest favor.

For luncheon, the card tables were reset and daintily appointed with centerpieces of gay tulips and pastel colors. Gorgeous bouquets of bright tulips were used throughout the rooms in other decorations. On the committee serving were Mary E. Wilson, Georgianna McNees and Stella McVay.

Plans were made for a picnic at one of the cottages along the Slippery Rock, for the next meeting. The date is Thursday, June 6.

FUTURE OF N. R. A.

IN direct opposition to the president and immediately following passage of the Patman bill—likewise opposed by the president—the senate has passed, almost unanimously, the resolution extending NRA for only 10 months and greatly limiting its scope.

The modified bill has been sent to the house where the administration measure extending NRA for two years was about to be reported back by the ways and means committee. President Roosevelt has expressed himself very forcefully as desiring the two-year extension period and has apparently placed his hopes in the house which, it is believed, would have passed the administration bill, and which appears determined to do so now. There are definite indications that the senate will stand pat in its demand for only a 10-month extension of the major new deal bill.

The senate has almost unquestionably reflected prevailing public sentiment. Whether it has fully reflected public opinion, which may indeed wish for immediate abandonment of the NRA, cannot be told. The resolution is, in effect, a proffer of compromise between a growing distrust of the institution and the insistence of the president upon its continuance for two years.

The senate resolution expressly excludes trades and industries engaged in intra-state commerce, proscribes price fixing and extends the act for 10 months instead of two years. It is likely that a compromise would be accepted by the administration, for the NRA has sadly declined in public favor.

Probably larger business and industry are sympathetic toward the NRA; intermediate business and industry are divided; small business is generally antagonistic; the farm population believes it has so raised prices of what the farmer buys as to offset increase in prices of what the farmer sells; consumers not under the benefits of its wage and hour regulations look upon it as a contributing factor to the mounting cost of living, and those employees who have benefitted from wage regulations are not wholly satisfied because increase in living costs have kept pace with improvement in their pay checks.

Sudden abandonment of NRA would be a shock to business and industrial commitments founded upon existing codes. That should be the major reason for its temporary continuance. As arrangements can be made, however, for normal governmental agencies to take over the beneficial features of NRA which provide for abolition of child labor and the sweat shop, the elaborate new deal programme based upon questionable administrative and legislative authority should be discarded. Public opinion demands, for the most part, a quiet, but rapid, retreat of the NRA.

OUR "PROTECTIVE" TARIFF

In an address defending his economic policy of arranging trade agreements with other nations delivered to the convention of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, Secretary of State Cordell Hull said in part:

"The pressure which is being currently brought upon both legislators and officials in Washington by those who fear that they are to be deprived of even a small part of the artificial advantage given them by an over-indulgent government, too often at the expense of efficient producers and consumers in general, would incline one to believe that much of the sturdy self-reliance, hardihood, and vigor of this country are definitely on the decline."

If Mr. Hull refers to those who are seeking protection which will equalize labor costs at home and abroad, so that American mills may operate, then he has indeed produced a thought worth considering. Mr. Hull ought to know that the past two years have just about wiped out the advantage American producers have received from an 'over indulgent" government as effectively as Mr. Hull could have done by a free trade law receiving its inspiration from the era of Jane Austen and her novels. Costs of production both of raw materials and finished goods in the United States have been made so high in the United States that the advantage of the protective tariff has just about been wiped out, along with the states rights which Judge Hull's friends used to cherish so fondly. Foreign producers taking advantage of cheaper raw materials, cheaper labor and other costs of production have been able to mount the tariff wall of the "robber barons" of the United States and are sending us cheap foreign goods in increasing quantities.

At the same time this increase in imports has not served to increase out exports. The foreigners are not only buying less of our raw materials, they are actually sending us raw materials which they raised on their own farms and are able again to surmount our tariff wall because of artificial governmental restrictions in the United States.

Judge Hull declares that "foreign countries cannot continue to buy our cotton, lard, tobacco and other surplus commodities unless the exchange with which to pay for these products is made available through imports to the United States.

The fact is that we are increasing imports even of those commodities Mr. Hull thinks he can sell for us abroad and our foreign trade is shriveling like a fresh prune in the California sun. Foreign producers have been inspired by increased artificial red tape costs in the United States to raise enough raw materials for themselves and then to send us some. Out of their own cheaper raw materials they are making goods which they are shipping into the United States to take jobs from American laborers.

The tide and the rest of the administration Secretary Hull represents are running against him. We cannot have high costs at home and sell abroad. The best we can do is to sell at home if we are lucky.

CANUTE DIDN'T DO THAT

CANUTE, the Mighty, died 900 years ago this very year—and it seems to me about time that a certain legend about that gentleman was remodeled a little closer to the truth.

Everybody knows about Canute. He was that young Danish king who, when he was only 18 or 19 years old, came across the waters and made himself the King of England. Danes used to raid the island, take away everything that wasn't nailed down, and impose an annual tribute called the Danegeld. Finally they decided it would be better business to take over the government entirely and collect taxes instead of tribute. So they did that, and Canute was one of those Danish kings. He was an able fellow, very hot tempered and intelligent.

However, he is chiefly remembered for a piece of nonsense that never happened. . . . According to the legend, he went down to the seashore one day, with his royal robes about his shoulders and his gold crown pressed tight upon his royal brow. . . . And there, standing right on the shore, he lifted his imperious hand and forbade the waves to roll in, told the imperturbable ocean it must NOT wet his feet. . . . Proving what? Proving nothing but the idiocy of moral vanity and arrogance.

But that isn't what happened! What the gentleman did was to lift his hand and forbid the sea to wet his feet, but when the sea did wet them, he turned to his courtiers and cried: "By this let all men know how empty and worthless is the power of kings!"

It may be argued that this was but an after thought! That Canute was wise in the ways of men and knew how to turn ignominious defeat into a spiritual victory. . . . I wouldn't know about that. Neither would you. Nor would anybody else, in this distant time. . . . Canute has been gone these nine long centuries, and it may not matter so much whether he was a vain and foolish king or a wise and humble human being. . . . But to me it seems to matter considerable. As I prefer to believe that Alexander the Great wept, not because there were no more worlds to conquer, but because he could not conquer even this little one.

RETRIBUTION EVENTUALLY CATCHES UP TO THE CONSISTENT SHIRKER.

Do you impose on the so-called "easy" person?

If there is extra work to do, you have no scruples about shifting the responsibility to the gullible one in your department or home.

If certain duties are disagreeable, you do not hesitate to allow this person to do more than his or her share.

In fact, you adopt a course whereby you avoid anything in the way of extra unpleasant service.

Much of the work you should do is done by this "easy" person, isn't it?

And whilt he does your work, you are either idle or trying to create the impression that you are busy.

How long do you think you can get away with such tactics?

You are not really fooling the boss—he can sense it; some day he will learn who is most loyal to him and his business.

Generally speaking, the shirkers are being let out of business.

To lose a job is a serious matter at this time.

It might be well for you to consider this fact before you are caught turning over to others the work you are paid to do yourself.

How about it? Are you giving honest service for the wages you receive?

THE SPIDER AND THE MAID

I watched a spider in the sun
Spinning a web beneath the eaves
And thought how skillyfully was done
The pattern of the web he weaves.

I watched it growing on the loom,
But when the last silk strand was tied
The maid came out with rag and broom
And calmly swept it all aside.

The spider to the place returned,
And, watching him, I wondered then
If rage within his body burned
As back he went to toil again.

Thought I, the maiden's cheeks are pink
As any summer rose that blooms,
And yet what must a spider think
Of maids who walk about with brooms?

John Hays Hammond refused to reply to applicants who said "What is the future in this job?" He reasoned that the future of one man would be totally different from the future of another. He would not commit himself, and resented the effort to make him.

Probably there is no gain in attempting to tell anyone what to do to insure a future.

But, like E. W. Howe, the Kansas philosopher, we can tell a man how to avoid failure. Let him be industrious, temperate, honest, fair and polite. Then he'll probably always have a job. If he is an exceptional person the chances are that his employer, or some other employer, will notice him and offer him a better job.

Before he gets sore at his job or his employer and quits, let him make sure that there is a place for him elsewhere. He may find that he is just an ordinary person holding down a better-than-ordinary job.

Washington At A Glance

New Deal Has Censor.
Task Is Difficult One.
Relief Heads Quarrel.

Central Press
Washington Bureau
1900 S street
By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 17.—"Red" Leggett now appears above the horizon as a star of first magnitude under the New Deal.

"Red" is more formally Eugene S. Leggett, executive assistant to Executive Director Donald R. Richberg of the National Emergency Council. In other words, he is NEC's chief publicity man. Previously he was Washington correspondent for the Detroit Free Press. The reader doubtless will have guessed, before being told, that his hair originally suggested the nickname by which he is far better known than by the monaker which his sponsors in baptism conferred on him about 33 years ago.

Be that as it may, today he's the New Deal's key dispenser of news.

* * *

CENSOR

In fact, his job is that of censor upon the utterances of New Dealers whose positions technically are vastly more important than his own.

"Red's" promotion was broadcast simultaneously with the tidings that President Roosevelt has "segregated" a couple of billions for expenditure, out of his 4,880-million-dollar work-relief fund.

Now there is, among heads of the New Deal's alphabetical organizations, a deal of competition as to their respective percentages of control over activities to be financed by these two billions—rural rehabilitation, rural electrification, water conservation, soil erosion prevention, reforestation, flood control, road building, grade crossing elimination, housing and dozens of et ceteras.

* * *

ALL UTTERANCES THROUGH "RED"

The White House evidently does not desire it too widely advertised that rival relief and recovery functionaries are quarreling bitterly among themselves.

They have a tendency to charge, back and forth, that one another's projects are "no good".

Accordingly every word they have to say, now and henceforward, until further notice, must, by executive order, "clear" through "Red".

* * *

CAN'T STOP TALKING

It is as difficult a task as a 33-year-old newspaperman ever had assigned to him, however.

Can he keep his conflicting elements bottled up?—separately?

Or will one or another of them, from time to time, explode?

That remains to be seen.

Relief Director Harry L. Hopkins already is effervescent.

He began making remarks within 24 hours after the gag-rule was applied. At first they were rather mild; yet insubordinate, in principle.

Washington's idea is that Harry Hopkins must talk or burst.

Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes is nearly as hard as Harry Hopkins to restrain.

* * *

TWO PRESS AGENTS CALLED

In fact (the capital makes no question that President Roosevelt had Hopkins and Ickes principally in mind when he applied (or ATTEMPTED to apply) his two-billion-dollar gag.

It is noteworthy that "Red" Leggett, his censorial powers having been conferred on him, called just two sub-press agents into conference with him:

1. Michael Straus, Secretary Ickes'.

2. Morton Milford, Director Hopkins'.

Other publicity experts were not in on the confab. Seemingly "Red" classified them as neutrals, whom it was not necessary to consult, but he did not overlook "Mike" and "Mort".

"Red", "Mike" and "Mort" are good Press club friends.

They agreed on an initial 'hand-out" (as it is known) to the Washington correspondents.

* * *

WILL BOSES STAY QUIET?

But can "Mike" and "Mort" keep their respective bosses peaceful for very long?

The policy of Ickes ("Mike's" boss) is to guard in advance against graft and waste in huge expenditures. Hopkins' reasoning is that such precautions involve delay.

The policy of Hopkins ("Mort's" boss) is to spend at top speed, and afterward to penalize graft and waste, if discovered. Ickes reasons that then it is too late.

"Red's" problem is to harmonize these two philosophies—if he can.

His further problem is to keep them both QUIET—again, if he can.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

HOW ABOUT IT?

A concert in aid of an English village charities had been arranged, and all the local "stars" were booked for a turn.

Miss Elsie Hands, the bakers' daughter and a soprano, was announced. The piano started.

"I'll hang my harp on a weeping willow tree-e-e--Ahem!"

"On a weeping willow tree-e-e--Oh!"

Her voice cracked on the high notes each time.

Elsie tried again but was unsuccessful. Then a voice chimed in from the back of the hall.

"Try 'anging it on a lower branch, miss," it said.

No, the Englishman has no sense of humor!

TODAY Is The Day

By CLARK KINNAIRD — Copyright 1935 — Central Press

FRIDAY, MAY 17

Today's Yesterdays, May 17, 1749—Edward Jenner was born in Berkeley, Gloucestershire, son of a minister, destined to become an immortal. He discovered that a person could be made immune to a disease artificially by being given an attenuated form of the disease.

He was 3 days less than 47 when he put into practice a theory he had been formulating for 21 years. From pustulous eruptions on the wrist forefinger and base of the thumb of milkmaid Sarah Nelmes, sufferer from cowpox, he took lympn which he inserted into the arm of an 8-year-old boy, James Phipps. After an uneasiness in armpit and an eruption at the side of the insertion, James recovered.

That, of course, was only the first step. On the following July, 1, Jenner inserted infectious matter from a smallpox sufferer under the skin of the boy. No disease followed. Several months later, James was again inoculated with various matter, again without effect.

Virtually its only advocates were non-professional men; they organized institutions for gratuitous vaccination which the medical men bitterly opposed. But as vaccination spread, smallpox decreased, and even the medical men had to be convinced. Before Jenner died, he had attained wide world fame, and medical science knew that there were other contagious disease that could be prevented.

May 17, 1774—Rhode Island proposed a general congress of the colonies.

May 17, 1792—Congress was provided with a popular target at which to shoot when anything became wrong with the country: "Wall Street." The New York stock exchange came into existence when 34 brokers met under a chestnut tree in front of what is now 70 Wall street, to form a league to establish standard rates of commission on purchases and sales of stocks and bonds.

Writing Wrongs—"A building is not the same width at the top as at the bottom if the opposite sides are perfectly plumb," Paul W. Dobson, Clarington, Pa., observes. "From the center of gravity, to which all plumb lines direct, plumb lines diverge as they extend outward, and therefore the two vertical walls of a plumb building would diverge as they increased in height."

Set Boundary For Maneuvers

United States And Japan To Observe 180th Meridian As Barrier

JAPAN'S ACTIVITIES TO OCCUR IN JULY

By JAMES R. YOUNG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, May 17—Secretary Swanson's "line of demarcation" in mid-Pacific is acceptable to Japan, it was indicated in semi-official circles today, but use of the 180th meridian as a barrier for war games can have no legal international status.

"Japan has no fear that the American fleet will venture into Japanese waters" an authority close to the marine ministry said.

"Japan's maneuvers," planned for July, will be limited. The fleet's action will be close to our shores, and entirely of a defensive nature."

While it was emphasized that Japan has no intention of everstepping the 180th parallel, which is roughly followed by the International date line, the spokesman was somewhat mystified by the American naval secretary's statement that "we respect the 180th meridian as the boundary, and expect others to do likewise."

"It is an international problem that cannot be considered by the two nations alone," the authority said. "Any fixing of a boundary would for instance, have to take into consideration the geographical position of Australia."

Commenting on Swanson's statement that the state department "might" protest if Japan's maneuvers crossed the line, he inquired:

"What legal basis would there be for a protest if the Japanese navy operated beyond the meridian?"

Aged Housekeeper Is Brutally Slain

Philadelphia Police Presented With Baffling Murder Mystery

BLAME ROBBERS FOR BRUTALITY

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, May 17—Beaten and strangled and trussed upon a bed, the battered body of Mrs. Winifred Flannery, 60-year-old housekeeper for a retired army officer, today presented homicide squad detectives with a baffling murder mystery.

The woman's body, with hands and feet securely bound, was found with a pillow case stuffed into her mouth by Major General John S. Morrison, retired. For 11 years, the aged woman had been employed by the former officer.

Police expressed the theory an intruder, bent on plundering the well-furnished twelfth-floor suite in an expensive apartment house, killed the woman after forcing his way into the place.

Murder squad detectives learned that Morrison left his apartment early yesterday and spent the day with a friend. It was upon his return last night that the retired officer stumbled upon the gruesome find.

RANKIN STUDENTS STAGE WALKOUT

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 17.—Cancelling of the school's junior prom resulted in a walkout of approximately 600 students at Rankin high school today.

A controversy among students, following the barring of 32 negro students from the annual social affair, led Principal L. R. Straitiff to call off the prom. At a signal given by student leaders, the pupils marched out of the school to a nearby theater to hold a "strike protest" meeting.

Change Officers In Relief Setup

Visitors of the Emergency Relief have been moved to the first floor of the building on South Mill St., and a number of changes in the location of departments has been made. Since the relief has been in the present building the visitors have had their offices on the second floor and their reception and visitation rooms on the first floor.

Since the abandonment of the issuance of clothing and shoes there has been considerable space available on the first floor. The second floor has been rather crowded and the changes were made effective today.

Defense Plans Aim At Germany

French And Soviet Program Is Admittedly Aimed At Hitler's Program

OBJECT OF PACT IS MADE CLEAR

By LINDESAY PARROTT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

MOSCOW, May 17.—Frank declaration that French and Soviet defense preparations are aimed primarily against Germany was made today by Pravda, semi-official organ of the communist party.

Both Pravda and Izvestia, the government organ, made clear the pact signed by France and Soviet Russia does not involve weakening of the armed forces of either country. The newspapers dealt in detail with the communique issued at close of negotiations between Josef Stalin and Foreign Minister Laval of France in which Stalin approved France's defense policy.

While Izvestia declared "temporary peaceful gestures" abroad will not be permitted to enfeeble national defense, Pravda went further in dealing with Germany's status in a re-arming Europe.

"It is sufficient to observe the anti-Soviet campaign carried on recently in the German press to understand their aims," Pravda said.

The whole Nazi philosophy is violation and war. The conclusion to be drawn from this is that to safeguard peace it is necessary to be strong. For the Nazis, military weakness of their neighbors would be only an additional argument in favor of an attack."

Izvestia, in a declaration designed to interest French communist groups opposed to military service, declares France and Russia "do not intend to use persuasion only in order to preserve peace."

"Until collective safety systems embracing even the countries where enemies of peace have gained the upper hand have been created," Izvestia said, "France and Soviet Russia must keep their armed forces at a level which is a guarantee of security. To attempt to lessen forces now would mean only encouraging the hopes of enemies of peace."

Directs Care In Use Of Road Oil

Seek To Prevent Surface Treatment From Draining Into Streams

HARRISBURG, May 17.—Vigilance will be exercised by state highway employes during the road surface treatment period to prevent drainage of excess oil into streams and brooks.

Warren VanDyke, secretary of Highways, today instructed district engineers and maintenance superintendents to guard against oil drainage, and calls attention to the fact that in previous years many fish have been killed because of carelessness in handling road oil.

Secretary VanDyke points out that the greatest trouble arises from pools of oil being permitted to collect when an oiling truck stands on the roads, or when sprays are cleaned at the close of the day's work.

Co-operation of various oil companies which will supply surface treatment materials will be sought by the highway department in alleviating the menace to fish in streams bordering state highways.

You remember how in Egypt, back in the days of the Pharaohs, they stored up grain during the seven good years so as to be ready for the seven lean years to come . . .

Lean years may come . . . and fat years may go . . .

That's why we have close to a hundred million dollars worth of tobacco packed away in 4½ miles of warehouses to grow mild and naturally sweet.

To make sure that Chesterfields will be uniform in taste and mildness, we have in storage mild, ripe tobaccos from the crops of four years —1931-'32-'33 and '34.

Mild Ripe Tobacco . . .
Aged 2 years or more . . .

—the farmer who grows the tobacco . . .
—the warehouseman who sells it at auction to the highest bidder . . .
—every man who knows about leaf tobacco—will tell you that it takes mild, ripe tobacco to make a good cigarette; and this is the kind we buy for CHESTERFIELD Cigarettes.

All of the tobaccos used in CHESTERFIELD Cigarettes are properly aged to make them milder and sweeter.

STAMP NEWS FROM EVERYWHERE

BY JOHNRAE EARL, SEC. NEW CASTLE STAMP CLUB.

Two very important items are now before the stamp world. The fact that the San Diego stamp has been officially announced for May 29, to be issued for the first time on that date in San Diego, Calif., at the opening of the San Diego Exposition. This stamp also will be of the large variety the same as the recent Connecticut stamp. It will be a three cent stamp and the design will include the Exposition Building, Bay of San Diego and Point Loma.

The next item of interest is the news that the special un-cut Farley Favor stamps will be removed from sale at the agency at Washington, D. C., on June 15, 1935. This perhaps is the most important bit of news because a great many of the collectors who have not yet received these stamps will make a rush to secure them before they are all gone. The estimates as to the receipts for this issue vary from 1 to 1½ million dollars. This is the largest sum of money ever secured on any single issue of stamps in the history of the Postoffice Department.

Since I mentioned the Connecticut stamp I might state that our local postoffice has available only one or two more sheets of this stamp and probability is that they will not be reordered. Miss Flynn at the stamp window will be very glad to cooperate with stamp collectors in securing these or other stamps in fine condition. She is a great aid to collectors in as much as she helps them in any way that is possible.

The first person to purchase one of the Connecticut stamps happened to be a 13-year-old boy, who arrived at the Hartford Postoffice at 5:30 and remained there until the window opened at 7 o'clock. The Hartford Post Office had 1,500,000 stamps on hand for the first day sale and all of them have been sold. Nearly half being sold when the clerks made a check late in the afternoon of the first day.

DID YOU KNOW?

That when you are sorry you mailed that letter you can again secure it? Address a second envelope, the duplicate of the first, and rush with it to your postmaster, who will give you Form 1509 to fill in. Your duplicate is required for identification. The Post Office gets in touch with the station to which your letter has been sent and with the carrier who would naturally deliver it. Letters to distant points are wired or even cabled for. The sender must pay for this, but for letters caught at the station of mailing, or within a city, there is no charge.

Many people have a mistaken idea that it helps the Post Office if they place the address on both sides of a package. As a matter of fact, it delays the transmission of the package; when a distributor sees an address but no stamp, he sets aside the package to be held for postage due examination. This happens many times each day. To place stamps on letters anywhere else than the upper right hand corner means delay, for the canceling machine will not cancel them, and the distributor will throw the letter out to have a postmark placed on it by hand later.

If you wish to enclose postage for reply when writing correspondents abroad, remember that international reply coupons may be purchased at your post office. They are exchangeable in foreign countries for stamps representing postage necessary to mail back a reply. The coupon is good in any country in the Postal Union.

Within the boundaries of any state, books may be sent by public libraries and returned to them, at a special rate of three cents for the first pound and one cent for additional pounds.

WOOD JOHN MASS

The above has long been known as the classic example of freak addresses, put on letters by practical jokers to test the skill of the Post Office. The story goes that the letter was correctly delivered to John Underwood, Andover, Mass. But such letters became a nuisance and since 1930 no effort has been made by the United States Post Office to interpret them. You may mail a letter addressed in some smart code or your own, if you wish, but it will be sent at once to the Dead Letter Office at Washington, D. C.

In San Francisco during one day of the longshoreman's strike the Post Office Department moved a parcel post 5000 pounds of potatoes, 3000 pounds of coffee, 2000 pounds of beans 150 crates of eggs, etc., and a secretary. Late at night the telephone at the office rang and a lady's voice said: "I have a secretary who must go to Los Angeles tonight; there are no street cars and no taxis running. If I put sufficient parcel post stamps on her, won't you see her safely to her train?" The Postmaster told her that the Department only permitted them to transport live chicks. She said: "This girl is a lively chick and doesn't weigh much over the 70 pound limit." So they sent the supervisors to put the live chick on the train. Can you imagine a thing like that actually happening?

NEW CASTLE STAMP CLUB

The stamp club is going to hold their regular meeting tonight at 8 o'clock Daylight Savings Time. The meeting will be held in the Chamber of Commerce conference room which is located on the third floor of the Green Building on North Mercer street. A very interesting and novel program will be the feature of the meeting.

State Working Hard To Eradicate Tuberculosis In Dairy Herds

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 17.—Pennsylvania's campaign to eradicate tuberculosis in its dairy herds neared an end today after the last untested herd in the state received its initial test.

The last herd was that of Christian S. King, whose farm is near New Holland in Lancaster county. King's 34 Holsteins were tested while Secretary of Agriculture J. Hansell French and other department officials looked on.

In announcing the test of the last herd, French said:

"Over $18,000,000 of state and federal funds have been paid to cattle owners in Pennsylvania as indemnities and over 320,000 cattle reacting to the test have been slaughtered since the T-B testing work was started in Pennsylvania 43 years ago. There are now 1,448,000 cattle under supervision for the control of tuberculosis in the commonwealth."

He Bruises Easy But Heals Quick

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 17.—Gilmore Young uttered imprecations beneath his breath, felt carefully of his arms and legs, glared with baleful gaze at a hole in the sidewalk in front of his home at Avalon, found he was bruised and said:

"I shall sue the borough." So he did.

The borough promptly named Young, as tenant, an additional defendant.

The case was called. Defendant Young failed to file his answer to his own claims. Young's lawyer pointed out ruefully that whatever claims he won he would have to pay out as defendant.

So the judge threw the case out of court. Said Young philosophically: "Oh, well, my bruises have healed, anyway. . . ."

PATMAN BONUS BILL BEING SENT TO PRESIDENT

Certain Veto Seen For Bill

Bonus Supporters Seek To Muster Strength To Override Veto

SENATORS HOLD FATE OF MEASURE

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 17.—The Patman bill to pay the soldiers' bonus with a new issue of currency today was on its way to President Roosevelt and certain veto.

Released from the senate, only the formality of Vice President Garner's signature blocked the path of the legislation to the White House.

The bill was released from the senate when Senator Thomas (D) Oklahoma, leader of the bonus faction in the senate, withdrew his motion to reconsider the vote by which the bonus bill was passed. This motion was purely a technical one, made to delay the measure's presentation at the White House.

Seek To Override Veto

Supporters of the bonus abandoned all strategy temporarily after the bill was released and started a last minute drive to muster senate strength to override the presidential rejection.

A two-thirds majority is necessary to do this. Such a majority is almost certain in the house.

Administration leaders in the senate insisted that their lines are holding and predicted that the bonusites would fail to override the veto by four or five votes. President Roosevelt has already prepared his veto message, and, in the words of his secretary, Stephen T. Early, "hopes the senate will sustain him."

The veto message cannot go back to the senate until Monday, for that body has recessed over the week-end. Senator Thomas, leader of the senate bonus supporters has secured an agreement to fix a time for voting on Mr. Roosevelt's veto. Under present plans final balloting will probably come on Wednesday.

VERMONT U. MALES HOUSEKEEPERS NOW

(International News Service)

BURLINGTON, Vt.,—These fragments of conversation may be heard next year in a dormitory of University of Vermont:

"Hey, Mike, how do you make angel cake? Do you put one or two spoonfuls of baking powder in muffins?"

"Bill, tie up my apron."

"Jim, get the vacuum sweeper and clean the living room."

Vermont University's men students are going to take up cooperative housekeeping. They will be completely in charge of buying and preparing food, and running the household. Expenses will be divided equally among them.

PHELPS ADAMS wires to Colonel Dewart, from Washington, news that reads, boiled down:

"The apparent indifference of the Roosevelt administration toward the probable passage of the Patman bonus bill over the President's veto is explained by the fact that the President would really like to have the bill passed over his veto."

Mr. Phelps Adams hears "that the White House would welcome passage of the bill for political reasons."

There might be other reasons. The President does not act "for political reasons." He might be pledged to a veto, and yet be delighted to see the soldiers get their money in spite of it.

IT IS THE opinion of this writer that the President WOULD like to see the bonus paid to the veterans, and that it would suit him as well to pay the bonus without wasting two thousand two hundred million dollars on money lenders, adding that much onto the taxpayers' load.

The President and others might be interested in a letter received from James Cromwell, able young American, at present flying over or near the Himalaya Mountains, with his beautiful young bride who was Miss Doris Duke.

The intelligent young American writes as follows about doubling the debt by insisting on bonds:

"In your able criticism of our government bond absurdities, I have never seen you make the following comment which to me is one of the most damning statements against present financial practices, viz: The sole purpose of the issuance of interest-paying bonds by the government is to avoid increasing the total quantity of the people's money. Under our system, of course, the government turns these bonds over to banks to issue money against them; thus the governmen' pays the bankers to do that which the government itself pays interest to avoid doing. Heavens, what a racket!"

How does that impress our "best minds" with the pawn-broker complex? And what answer would they make to it?

THIS MAY be important. A young woman has had removed almost "the entire thinking portion of her brain," including the "entire right prefrontal lobe and most of the left lobe." These masses of "gray matter" are supposed to be the "seat of reason, logic and intelligence." Some believe these lobes affect personality.

The result of the operation, performed upon a woman of foreign birth, with a tumor on the brain, has been extraordinarily beneficial. The patient has improved mentally, her intellectual energy has been increased and her character greatly improved.

WHO KNOWS what will be done in future by scientists, exploring the brain, cutting out unfortunate heredity, and possibly making room for and building up better parts of the brain.

Many have a depression at the top of the skull, at or near the spot that must never be pressed in the case of a young baby. Much good might be done by experimenting with such skull depressions, removing them, allowing the top of the brain, supposed seat of imagination, power and reverence, to develop fully.

AMELIA EARHART PUTNAM who owns, but does not claim the title "best flyer in America, man or woman," is not a good shot with champagne bottles.

She tried to christen a new airplane, "hurled" the bottle and missed. The second time she broke the bottle and released the foam.

There are more important things than knowing how to throw a champagne bottle. Miss Earhart, who drinks nothing with alcohol in it, started from Hawaii, flying to this country, over 2,400 miles of Pacific Ocean water, and she did not miss the road. When, the other day, she flew from Mexico City to New York, first man or woman that ever did it, in one hop and alone, she found her way across seven hundred miles of the Gulf of Mexico, and above lonesome forests. Incidentally, between Mexico City and Washington, she beat Col. Lindbergh's time by fourteen hours, and beat his distance by continuing on from Washington to New York.

Such an American girl need not know how to throw a champagne bottle, especially when she has an ideal husband.

STRANGE NEWS from Mexico City that would interest the late Lecky, whose "history of European morals" you should read. The "oldest profession in the world," as old as man's viciousness and woman's poverty and helplessness, plans a "labor union." In a public manifesto, members of the "profession" protest against exploitation of their ranks by police and others, hardships innumerable, and miserable old age.

Once a similar group of women in India, accompanying British soldiers under semi-official recognition, shocked the British Mrs. Grundy by sending an appeal to Queen Victoria, "loyally and humbly" asking for better conditions. Needless to say the petition was suppressed. The Queen never saw it.

While such a "profession" exists, it seems strange to talk of "civilization."

PRIMITIVE HUMAN beings like bright colors, brass bands and titles.

Even in America, where we thought, in 1776, that we hated titles, royalty and all the rest of it, we have come back to titles. To be the "past grand master," or "high lord supreme potentate" of something or other, is soothing.

In Bolshevist Russia, titles and decorations creep back. Opening the new subway in Moscow, revealing its checkerboard paving, marble columns and pink steps, Joseph Stalin awarded the "order of Lenin" to young Communists, especially energetic in construction work.

The French have a saying: "The more it changes, the more it is the same thing." That applies to human nature.

CHICAGO NEWSPAPERS said that a young girl in the University of Chicago had heard a professor say, in a class, that he was "in favor of free love." Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, head of the university, wires:

"I call your attention to the statement of the professor in question: 'As a married man, with two children, I obviously am not a believer in free love.'"

'HOT DOGS' STILL TOPS IN SAUSAGES

(International News Service)

BOSTON—Frankfurters ('Hot dogs' to you!) are still the most popular form of sausage, it was revealed here by W. D. Jones, Boston meat packer, and vice chairman of the governing committee of the National Organization of Sausage Manufactures. About 30 per cent of sausage sold is in frankfurter form.

Bologna comes second, representing about 17 per cent of all sausage consumed, and pork sausage is third, with 15 per cent. Salami trails.

"In all, there are more than 100 distinct types of sausage and prepared meat specialities," he estimated.

GOOSE CAUSES GOLD RUSH

Grains of gold found in the crop of a goose while the wife of a school caretaker was cleaning the bird caused a goose-gold rush at Prerov, Moravia. After an expert had pronounced the grains pure gold there was a scramble to buy all geese offered by dealers.

CALVES DO WELL ON PASTURE WITH CARE.

Pasture grass is an excellent feed for calves that are six months old or older. Shade and fresh water also are necessary for the comfort and best growth of the calves.

Too often, however, calves are turned on pasture and forgotten until fall except for an occasional salting. Many conditions may develop to keep the calves from being as thrifty in the fall as they were in the middle of the summer. The weather may become hot, the pasture dry and short, and flies troublesome, so that conditions are not favorable for growing good calves. When these conditions are recognized by dairymen, feeding can be regulated accordingly.

It is often a wise plan to feed some grain to young heifers on pasture. Equal parts of corn and oats or barley and oats usually are sufficient. High protein feeds are not necessary since pasture usually contains enough protein for the animals' needs. If pasture becomes quite short, some bran and a little linseed oil meal should be added to the home grainss. Just enough grain should be fed daily to keep the calves growing normally. This will vary from 2 to 4 pounds daily, depending on the quality and quantity of the pasture.

Salt is essential to the growth and the health of the calf. A salt block or salt box should be so located that the calves can have access to it whenever they wish.

Many dairymen have found that calves often do better during the hot summer months if kept in a cool, well-ventilated stable during the day and turned out on pasture only at night. This will depend, of course, on the location of the pasture and the ease in handling.

Calves should not be fat but should grow normally and not receive any setbacks. If an animal has the inherited ability to produce milk there is a strong correlation between the size or the cow and her production. A cow does most of her growing prior to the time of the first calving. While she will continue to grow until 5 or 6 years of age, yet if stunted early she will seldom, if ever, reach her inherited size.

Some dairymen make the mistake of turning calves under six months of age out to fight the flies all summer without any attention. This usually produces a stunted cow and is a practice which should be avoided.

USE SPRAY OR DUST TO CONTROL FLEA BEETLES

Flea beetles are small, dark colored insects which derive their common name from the quickness of their movements.

These beetles differ somewhat in shape and size, the most common form being the potato flea beetle. The adults spend the winter under rubbish and emerge in the spring as soon as vegetation starts to grow. There are two complete broods from egg to adults during the season.

Some flea beetles eat pits in leaves, giving them a characteristic perforated appearance, while others simply eat off the upper leaf surface. In the spring before true leaves have developed, entire seedlings may be destroyed. The larvae of some species have been known to work between the leaf surfaces, but the largest part of larvae damage occurs on fleshy plant roots or tubers. So-called "pimply" potatoes are a result of such feeding. Damage is most severe during prolonged periods of hot, dry weather when the loss of leaf tissue prevents proper functioning of the plants. Small plants, if not killed outright, are likely to be stunted.

Application of a poison spray made from 3 tablespoonfuls of calcium arsenate, 2 cupfuls of air-slaked lime, and 1 gallon of water, or a poison dust made from 9 pounds of hydrated lime and 1 pound of calcium arsenate, are necessary for control. Heavy applications of lime as a dust are sometimes satisfactory for protecting vegetables in gardens. The plants should be dusted after every rain or when any new growth appears. Dust applications, to be successful, must be very heavy. Nicotine dusts and sprays should not be used against flea beetles.

THERE IS BEST TIME TO TURN STOCK ON PASTURE

Some farmers turn their stock out as soon as the grass starts to grow. Empty hay mows and silos may dictate this policy but it certainly is not the best for either the cows or the pasture.

Since the first growth of grass is scanty and watery, a cow cannot secure enough nutrients from it to maintain production and body weight. If kept grazed down closely at all time, the grass roots have no chance to develop, soon become exhausted, and production and quality of the pasture deteriorates.

On the other hand, some dairymen keep the cows off good pasture too long. The result is that the bluegrass shoots up seed stems and heads before it can be eaten off. The stems are unpalatable and much less digestible than the blades and are seldom eaten. The grass on large areas is left to become coarse and die untouched while the cattle spend all their time eating closely grazed areas into the ground.

By turning out earlier a much larger proportion of the pasture will be grazed off evenly. Many weeds which would not be touched later will be eaten while small along with the grass. Beef cattle and sheep may be carried through the short pasture period of late summer on the uneaten spring growth, but for dairy cattle something like summer silage, soiling crops, or sudan grass pasture must generally be provided if production is to be maintained. It would be better economy for some dairymen to turn out earlier and save silage in the spring for late summer feeding.

An excellent means of providing more uniform grazing is to have the pasture divided into 3 or 4 areas which can be grazed in rotation. Starting with the most advanced area in the spring, the cows are moved on to the next when the first lot is pretty well cleaned up. An application of manure in the fall or of high nitrogen fertilizer early in the spring will put one of the areas in shape for the earliest grazing. Rotation grazing may easily increase production, or rather utilization, 25 per cent and result in a better, cleaner sod all over the entire pasture area.

INSECT PUZZLE CALLS FOR CAREFUL SPRAYING

Careful spraying to control insects will be needed this year, it is expected.

The unusual seasonal conditions have introduced a puzzling situation. The early development of fruit buds, followed by a retardation over a long period this year, has resulted in a somewhat similar situation in regard to insect development.

From all that can be learned from reports on the conditions in 50 counties during the past three weeks, the infestation of common orchard insects promises to be variable. This means, that unusual attention will have to be given this year to the application of insecticides. Although some growers have been able, on account of thoroughness of practice, to drop out one or more materials in a single spray during some years, it seems advisable to follow definitely the recommended spray practices for the remainder of this year.

FATALLY STRICKEN

GROVE CITY, May 17—Stricken with a heart attack as he was walking along Broad street last evening Casper U. Guild, 65, collapsed and was dead when passersby reached him. He was identified as a guest of the Wayside Inn, home for Aged Odd Fellows here, by J. M. Reynolds director of the institution, who went to his assistance.

Mr. Guild had been in an accident prior to entering the Home here four years ago, and used crutches. His health had been good, but the investigation by Coroner W. A. Applegate revealed death due to heart failure. He was a native of Titusville, where he had worked for years in the oil fields.

It is said that the bristles of clothes brushes are likely to soften and work loose unless they are treated before using. Soak them for 24 hours in a bowl of cold water containing a pinch of salt.

Show Increase In FHA Loans

Business Is Being Stimulated In City And County, Feuchtwanger States

PROGRESS MADE ON HOME SURVEY

New Castle's Better Housing Campaign, under the leadership of John W. Pattison, Gen. Chairman is stimulating building, Marcus Feuchtwanger, Director of the Federal Housing Administration for Lawrence County, stated today. Not only are home owners borrowing to make repairs, modernize or erect new additions to their homes through the facilities of the F. H. A. but they are actually letting contracts for this work, thereby giving employment to a large number of people in their various trades. The number of applications for loans to repair and modernize properties have shown a big increase at the offices of the F. H. A. in the Greer Building. Up to the present time the House-to-House survey has shown thousands of home owners anxious to proceed with improvements.

The City survey is now three-fourths completed, and showed up to May 15th an approximate amount of prospective improvements for repairs and modernization, as well as new construction in the city, of $1,402,000. The outlying districts in the County which is about fifty per cent completed by the investigators, shows $601,000. The total amount expended as reported into the offices of the F. H. A. in the Greer Building up to May 15th is $202,200. for the City and approximately $30,000 for the County, totaling $232,200. In addition to the above amount much has been expended of which no reports come into the F. H. A. offices.

The amount of loans obtained through the F. H. A. offices from the banks of New Castle amounts to $19,000. The amount of loans made by the banks, Building and Loan Associations, and contractors direct can not be given since no record is sent by these individuals to the headquarters. Director Feuchtwanger states it is pleasing to note that the survey up to the present time has made tenants and home owners "house conscious" and many improvements are being made that he knows nothing of.

A report received by the F. H. A. offices from the Washington headquarters shows much activity for insured mortgages. One day alone, May 6th, applications to the amount of $2,195,871 was written. In a further letter sent by the Controller of the Treasury, J. F. T. O'Conner, he states that National Bank examiners will be notified not to classify Home Mortgage Loans insured by the F. H. A. as "slow, doubtful or loss." He explained his ruling on the ground that in his provision for loans of this type and debentures of the Mutual Mortgage Insured Fund has been fully guaranteed as to principal and interest by the United States.

It is pleasing to note, stated Director Feuchtwanger, that such concerns as the Johns-Manville Company, the American Radiator Company, the National Lead Company and others handle much of the underwriting direct with the contractors at the same rate of interest (5 per cent) as the banks charge. Where applications are filed with the Federal Housing Administration offices in the Greer Building, they are being quickly handled by the banks which are qualified by the Government, showing their hearty cooperation.

Through the F. H. A. Survey, many trades are showing a large number of men being put to work, thereby relieving the relief roll.

Hoover Plans To Have Some Voice In Party Affairs

Former President Is Taking Active Interest In Coming Campaign

SPEAKING OUT QUITE REGULARLY

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 17—The conviction is growing in Republican quarters that Herbert Hoover plans to have—or hopes to have—considerable voice in the nomination of a presidential candidate in 1936 and in the platform upon which he runs.

The increasing frequency with which the former president is speaking out on current national affairs, his periodical trips about the country conferring with friends, and the voluminous correspondent he carries on with his former lieutenants, all contribute to this belief.

Some of the leading Republicans in congress, who have other plans—plans in which Mr. Hoover doesn't figure—are privately gnashing their teeth about his activity. But they are not in a position to do much about it.

Hoover Against New Deal

In the past six months, Mr. Hoover has managed to take a public position that is four-square against the new deal. First, he undertook a broad criticism of "regimentation" and the loss of individual liberty in the new deal. Then he became more specific, attacking first the monetary policy of the administration, then the AAA, and now the NRA. The Roosevelt monetary policies, the AAA and the NRA constitute the very heart of the new deal, and Mr. Hoover is now publicly on record in violent opposition to them all.

Intimates of the former president profess not to know whether he is personally ambitious for another try at the white house. Although voluble enough in other directions, he has never, so far as is known, committed himself on that point, either in his correspondence or his conferences.

Most of his friends here believe he would consent to be "drafted." A few believe he is an active, although unannounced, candidate others say privately they believe he is more interested in the platform than in candidacies, that his chief concern is to see to it, as best he can, that the party embraces the policies and the principles which he espoused in 1932.

Mills Likely Choice

If Mr. Hoover has a candidate, other than himself, the belief in responsible Republican quarters here is that it is Ogden L. Mills, his secretary of the treasury.

More than any member of his cabinet, Mills commands the confidence and regard of Mr. Hoover. Of all the old "Hoover crowd" Mills has been the most frequent and the most outspoken critic of the new deal. There is scarcely a Roosevelt policy, from the AAA to the NRA, that has escaped his biting criticism. While the Hurleys, the Mitchell's the Wilburs, the Stimsons, and other members of the Hoover cabinet have been generally quiet, Mills has almost literally stumped the country in opposition to the new deal. Moreover, Mills has been a not infrequent visitor to Palo Alto since his chief's retirement.

Republicans from the middle west can and do snort at the suggestion of either Mr. Hoover or his secretary of the treasury gaining the nomination next year, but their increasing activity nevertheless is engaging their serious attention.

The Republican regional conference to be held in Springfield, Ill., next month, which will be attended by some 1500 delegates from nine Mississippi valley states, may throw some interesting light on the candidatorial situation. Republican leaders in congress have had little or nothing to do with organizing this conference. It is being fostered by the national committeemen of the Mississippi valley states, who are not particularly close to or beholden to the leading Republicans in congress.

NOISELESS MILK WAGON

Better days—or should we say nights—may be in store for New York City's sleepers. Under the auspices of the New York Noise Abatement Commission, a noiseless milk wagon, equipped with balloon tires and drawn by a horse shod with rubber shoes has lately been demonstrated. Only a rubber milk bottle is needed to make the picture complete.

Uses Electricity To Aid Growth Of Vegetable Plants

Electrically Heated Beds Stimulate Rapid Development Of Plants

Plants, thousands of them, are being grown by aid of electricity and according to an inspection made at the beds of Alexander Pollio, South First street, Seventh Ward, two plants can be grown a season in an electrically heated bed while only one planting can be grown in a manure heated bed.

Pollio has six acres of fine ground north of South First street. The acreage extends along the Baltimore & Ohio railroad and in the rear of his yard there are beds in which the plants are aided by electrification in one bed, manure in another bed and only mother nature in other beds.

The five acres along the railroad are irrigated by water forced through pipes by an electric motor and on a farm along the Mount Jackson road, Mr. Pollio has five or six more acres where he has many more plants and indications are he'll have tomatoes by late June.

In the electric bed the wires are laid in the ground and the temperature can be controlled by a thermostat. It is possible to get two plantings without disturbing the ground. In the manure bed only one planting can be had, he explained yesterday.

After the plants reach a certain growth he transplants them in the other sections—that along the railroad embankment and on the plot along the Mount Jackson highway. Pipes are laid in such a manner that when needed, water can be forced through the pipes providing moisture for the ground. The plots are known as two of the best truck farms in this section.

"If the Medical Association lays down that a dentist may not draw a tooth unless he wears a top hat then he must do so, even though it seems unreasonable," decreed Justice De Waal in the Transvaal Supreme Court at Pretoria recently.

Baptism

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

Matthew 28:19—"Go ye therefore, and make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them into the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit."

(The international uniform lesson on "Baptism" for May 19 is Matt. 3:13-17; 28:19, 20; Acts 2:38, 41; 8:26-39; Rom. 6:1-14, the Golden Text being Matt. 28:19, "Go ye therefore, and make disciples of all the nations; baptizing them into the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit.")

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

Our Lord Jesus often bestowed his grace through strange visible and material elements as when he anointed with clay and spittle the eyes of the man born blind, or touched with spittle the ears and tongue of one deaf and with an impediment of speech. So in the sacrament of baptism and the Lord's Supper he uses such material elements as water, bread and wine as the channels or vehicles of his grace in the forgiveness of sin. He gives the promise of his word and then confirms the covenant with visible sign and seal even as God gave his covenant to Noah and then confirmed it and made it more fully assured in his rainbow which he set in the clouds as a sacramental sign of his covenant of grace.

Our Lord's Baptism.

Our Lord's baptism in the River Jordan at the hands of John the Baptist was his official inauguration as God's promised Messiah or anointed servant. Hereby he personally identified himself with our sinful race, assuming as his own the sins of the whole race. John testified to his sinlessness when he demurred at baptizing him, saying, "I have need to be baptized of thee, and comest thou to me?" God the Father also testified to the same effect, saying "This is my beloved Son in whom I am well pleased." As his baptism identifies Christ with us, so our baptism identifies us with him, as Paul says, "As many of you as were baptized into Christ did put on Christ." (Gal. 3:27.)

At his ascension our Lord gave to his disciples his "great commission". "All authority hath been given unto me in heaven and on earth. Go ye therefore, and make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them into the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I commanded you: and lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world."

Baptism is thus made his appointed means of initiation into discipleship with him, investing its recipients with the name and position of children in the family of God and establishing with them God's covenant of grace and forgiveness, "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved."

The Benefits of Baptism

The benefits of baptism are quite definitely prescribed in the New Testament. In his sermon on the day of Pentecost Peter ascribed forgiveness of sin as one of its benefits, saying, "Repent ye, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ unto the remission of your sins; and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit. For to you is the promise and to your children."

The benefit of baptism lies in the fact that God is satisfied to make it, together with the faith which baptism implies, the means or grounds of identification with Christ so that what Christ did for us in his death and burial and resurrection is as though it were done by us who "put on Christ" in our baptism: "All ye who were baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized into his death.... For if we have become united with him in the likeness of his death, we shall be also in the likeness of his resurrection." Our obligation in baptism is that we "walk in newness of life", "presenting ourselves unto God, as alive from the dead."

OPEN MUSEUM TO SUNDAY VISITORS

HARRISBURG, May 17.—A new high record for visitors at the Pennsylvania State Museum, Department of Public Instruction, has resulted in arrangements to keep all exhibits at the Museum open for public inspection during certain hours each Saturday, Sunday and holiday. More than 13,000 visited the Museum during the last two weeks in April, attendance ranging from 400 to more than 1800 daily.

Visiting hours for the State Museum now are: Monday to Friday, inclusive, 8:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.; Saturday and holidays, 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., and Sundays, 1 to 4 p. m.

The biggest week-end at the Museum was over the Easter holiday, when more than 1800 people, representing every section of the state, inspected the many historical and educational exhibits on Saturday and Sunday.

Pour some hot water and a few drops of household ammonia into the roasting pan immediately after removing the meat and making the gravy. You will find it is much easier to wash.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. May 16, seven arrests on charges as follows: Violation of parking law 1, drunkenness 2 and suspicion 4.

Councilmanic gray hair will increase perceptibly should the law which allows firemen one day off duty in each seven be mandatory. At present the fire force consists of only enough men to man the equipment. Should the law be mandatory council will have to find a way to carry it out. It was reported yesterday that if it had to fulfill the provisions of the law council would need seven more firemen, which would cause an increase of approximately $8,000, to the payroll. A similar bill for police may pass, according to city hall reports. According to one city hallite, this probably would mean more police. When the appropriations for the two departments were compiled last December the amounts were held to the edge and raising additional money would not please council.

Twenty-seven additional cases of contagion were reported to the health bureau yesterday. One of the patients contracted typhoid fever. There have been few cases of typhoid fever here during the past several years. Several wells and springs were closed by order of the health bureau last year. An inspection would show whether or not any of them have been re-opened.

During the past several weeks there has been some police court defendants discharged then instructed to assist in the janitor work around the police garage. For some months it was seldom that any of them were put to work. It is not unusual now to see two or three engaged sweeping and hosing the floor and polishing the automobiles.

Chief of Detectives Willis McMullen and Detective John G. Moore have completed the renovating of the detective bureau. The place bears a different aspect as a result of the work. The wall paper was cleaned, windows washed and pictures hung straight. A new linoleum replaced the worn threadbare carpet.

JUNIOR CLASS MEETING

A very interesting, novel and entertaining program was presented at the last meeting of the Junior A class, held on Tuesday morning, May 14, third period in the auditorium. The meeting was opened with a selection by Johnny Phillip's orchestra, the members of which are all pupils in the school. The chairman, Dike Blair then introduced David Rowland, treasurer of the class, who gave a report to date. The orchestra was again heard from, following which Miss Majorie Rhodes spoke to the class about the responsibilities they would have to shoulder as seniors next year.

Billie Glenn offered a tap dance. Merilynne Blank gave a reading entitled, "The American Girl." The selection, "Every Day," was sung by Dorothy Donahey and Johnny Phillips. Miss Donahey then sang, "What's the Reason."

This will probably be the last meeting of the class this semester and the success of the program was due largely to the chairman, Dike Blair, and the class supervisor, Miss Parker who arranged it.

PLAYED PART ADMIRABLY

Miss Mary Brice, who portrayed the part of Mrs. McIntyre in Wednesday evening's presentation of, Growing up", is to be congratulated for her excellent work. Miss Brice mastered the part within a few days notice, due to the fact of the illness and death of the father of Jean Hoose, who had formerly played the part.

BBrief sentences of explanation regarding each picture were made by a group of students.

A style show was the next feature on the program, under the direction of the Household Arts Department. It was illustrating the activities in our modern high schools which are great improvements over those of the early Boston Latin School. A group of girls from the Physical Education Department presented an Indian Club drill. The American High School tribute was given by Ralph Davies.

The program was closed with the pledge of allegiance to the flag which was led by Scout Phil McClure.

Gossipers Couldn't Fool Mrs. Pierce

SHE LOST 50 POUNDS OF FAT

Feel full of pep and possess the slender form you crave for. You can't if you listen to gossipers who'd secretly hate to see you take off ugly fat but notice that Mrs. Pierce had a mind of her own.

Here's a treatment—tested and proved SAFE for years—not only to take off excess fat but also a health corrector: take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a cup of hot water every morning (tastes fine with juice of half lemon added).

Mrs. L. W. Pierce of Tiffin, Ohio, writes: "I've taken off 50 lbs. with Kruschen in 6 months. I was 236 and intend to continue till I'm 154." If one jar (lasts 4 weeks and costs but trifle) doesn't take 12 lbs. off you—money back. New Castle Drug Co., Eckerd's Drug Store.

Caution Farmers On Hog Sale Law

Must Meet Requirements Of Law Passed At 1929 Session

HARRISBURG, May 17.—A law enacted at the 1929 session of the General Assembly provides certain regulations for the sale of swine at either public auction or private sale, to guard against the spread of hog cholera, officials of the bureau of animal industry, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, explain.

The law requires that unvaccinated swine that have been in the possession of livestock dealers or others for less than thirty days and are offered for either auction or private sale for purpose other than immediate slaughter, be vaccinated against hog cholera within thirty days prior to day of sale. When unvaccinated swine are added within thirty days to other swine owned by or under the control of the seller and to be sold at private or auction sale, the entire herd must be vaccinated against hog cholera.

It is unlawful to bring into the Commonwealth, except for immediate slaughter, any swine until after being vaccinated against hog cholera.

This law is enforced by the bureau of animal industry, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture.

Russia Sounds Grave Warning

Warns Germany To Have More Respect For Slavic Nations In Future

(International News Service)

MOSCOW, May 17.—A blunt warning to Germany to show more respect for slavic nations under threat of Red army guns was sounded by the semi-official newspaper pravda today in commenting upon the new Russo-Czechoslovakian pact of mutual assistance.

Warning Germany to revise its actions of the Slavic nations, Pravda said:

"When German fascism, in order to mask its designs of conquest, coins a theory which makes the Slav nations mere historical dirt under their feet, the Soviet union considers the defense of these nations no less fundamental than the defense of France."

Signing of the new agreement at prague yesterday again demonstrates to would-be aggressors that they cannot attack isolated nations, Pravda said.

SURVEY ALWAYS SHOWS SOMETHING

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 17.—Unemployment in this district is principally due to the reduction in mechanical industries and manufacturing operations, a federal emergency relief administration survey indicates.

Nearly 25,000 work-seekers in Pittsburgh, representing about 41 per cent of the 61,000 total, formerly were employed in manufacturing and mechanical operations, the survey reveals.

Approximately 5,600 of the qualified work-seekers in the district were revealed to have no previous work experience.

Missouri Divorce "Mill" Is Swamped

(International News Service)

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., May 17—Women divorce-seekers—young, old, smiling and otherwise—crowded the circuit courtroom of Judge Guy D. Kirby today to have their marital bonds severed at the efficient rate of one every four minutes.

It was the second day of the divorce mill session and the affable judge, himself a bachelor, had granted 60 couples their marital freedom. That was a near-record, overshadowed only by the 176 decrees granted in a similar two-day session here in 1929.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 17.—Advocating a modified fee for low-wage patients and assailing the "fancy prices" charged by some medical practioners, Dr. Thomas K. Lewis speaking before the New Jersey medical society at its 169th annual meeting, declared that under present conditions only one person in five can meet the cost of serious illness.

German Settlers Were Fatalists, Old Lintels Show

Old Quotation On Door Lintel Placed In State Museum

HARRISBURG—That some pioneer Pennsylvania German settlers were fatalists in every sense of the word is shown in a carved wood lintel or cross-piece taken from the doorway of a log house erected in Middletown in 1764, and which has been added to the valuable collection of early Pennsylvania exhibits in the state museum, Department of Public Instruction.

An inscription is neatly carved in German in a depression on the face of the heavy beam, which, when translated, reads:

"When I am going out or in at the door, death is awaiting me."

Dr. Charles F. Hoban, director of the museum, in checking the inscription, found it was only part of an old German quotation. The complete quotation is: "When I am going out or in at the door, death is awaiting me; and though I always keep indoors, death will bring me out nevertheless."

The lintel is in excellent state of preservation, even though exposed to the weather for more than 170 years. It came to the museum thru Dr. Charles Baum of Middletown, Dauphin county.

(International News Service)

Mrs. Miller Named Executive Director

National Council Of Jewish Women Hears Of New Appointment Made For Vacancy

Mrs. Marion Monteser Miller, former associate director of the Child Study Association, has been named executive director of the National Council of Jewish Women, it was revealed today by Mrs. William L. Cosel, president of the New Castle section of the council. Mrs. Miller fills the vacancy left by Mrs. M. G. Schonberg, who died a month ago.

At the same time it was announced that Miss Cecelia Razovsky, field counselor and immigration authority of the council, has been named associate director.

Mrs. Miller, an expert on child study problems, will continue as a member of the board of directors of the child study association, and as editor of the Department of Child Training of the Delienator. She has lectured under the extension division of Columbia University, and contributed chapters to "Guidance of Childhood and Youth," edited by Benjamin G. Gruenberg, and "Our Children," edited by Dorothy Corfield Fisher and Sidonie M. Gruenberg. Mrs. Miller is a daughter of the late Professor Frederick Monteser, of New York University.

Miss Rozovsky was a member of a group of consultants appointed last year by Miss Frances Perkins, secretary of labor, to act in an advisory capacity to the Ellis Island committee of 48 whose report is the basis for legislation now pending in congress.

The National Council of Jewish Women is in its 42nd year of service to the community and is one of the largest organizations of its kind in the country. It has a nation-wide membership of 40,000 and has sections in 200 cities. The council fosters social service, religious education, social legislation, the peace movement, and immigration work, with special reference to German refugees.

Egypt has withdrawn its cotton acreage restriction.

On Court House Hill

Prothonotary Ralph Campbell has received advance copies of the acts of the 1935 legislature, which have so far been signed by Governor Earle. They are posted in his office for the use of attorneys or others who may wish to see them.

County commissioners are having some work done in the channel of the river north of the Cherry street bridge. The channe' has been working toward the west and in flood stages the water is likely to damage the bridge abutment.

Owing to the fact that the 1935 taxes will not begin to come in until after June 1, it is necessary for the county commissioners to borrow $20,000 more to meet running expenses of the county. The county has already borrowed $85,000.

County Treasurer William O. Pitts reports that the county tax cards will be ready to send out about the first of June. The cards have all been written up ready to mail, with the exception of those for the Second ward. Over 50,000 cards will be placed in the mails.

Expense of papering court room No. 1, where the ceiling was damaged during a recent storm, will be saved, owing to the fact that the county commissioners have been able to match the ceiling paper through the contact of a local firm with the manufacturer. The ceiling will be patched as soon as the paper arrives.

County commissioners have been visiting the different bridges throughout the county with a view to making any needed repairs. Some of the bridges will have to be painted and others replanked. It is probable that some work will be done in the channel of the Slippery Rock creek above the bridge at Elliott's mills, as water is being diverted toward one of the abutments.

There is some agitation for a division of court room No. 1 in order that more offices may be secured. However, it is admitted that the proposed remodeling would interfere with light and ventilation. Few court houses have two such large, well lighted court rooms, as the Lawrence county court house.

There is considerable discussion here over a bill proposed in the state legislature to raise money for old age pensions through a state lottery. It is admitted that the money could easily be raised in that way, but there are many people who fear the moral effect. The bill will likely be killed.

One of the points in the new delinquent tax bill which is being discussed locally is whether or not current taxes are to be considered delinquent when the penalties are added. The general idea seems to be that the 1935 taxes do not become delinquent until the end of the year. This and other points will be cleared up as soon as city and county officials and their attorneys get together to interpret the law.

Money is becoming so plentiful in the banks that it is being offered to counties and municipalities at considerably below the rates on former bond issues, the object being to induce refunding. An agent of a Philadelphia bank was at the court house yesterday and offered money at 2¾ per cent interest. The refunding of a bond issue would entail considerable expense, and it is doubtful if it would be worth while.

District Head Will Discuss Relief Projects

Regional Relief Head To Be Named For Area By Hopkins

STATE DIRECTOR TO BE IN CHARGE

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 17.—Sponsors of projects in New Castle and vicinity calling for federal grants under the administration's new work relief program will be able to discuss their proposals directly with a regional relief head to be named by Federal Relief Administrator Hopkins for the area.

To get under way and administer that portion of the work-relief program calling for federal grants, Mr. Hopkins will set up a complete administrative unit in Pennsylvania. He will divide the state into a number of relief regions. He will name a Pennsylvania director who in turn will select administrators for each region.

New Castle will lie in one of these new regions, and officials of the city advancing work-relief projects will discuss them directly with the regional head. Administrator Hopkins said the relief regions would be laid out "so that the mayor of any city or any citizen can go to a convenient location, present the merits of a project and get it in the works."

Under this system, sponsors of projects calling for grants alone will file applications with regional heads. These in turn will investigate each project, determine how many men it would put to work, whether relief rolls of the region would supply the necessary workers, and similar information. Regional heads will present reports and recommendations to the state director who will convey his findings to Mr. Hopkins.

Once a grant is approved for a project, the state unit will then function toward removing men from relief lists and employing them on that project. Here again the regional head will supervise construction activities within his area, reporting to the state director, who will keep Mr. Hopkins informed as to progress. Mr. Hopkins said he didn't think this system was complicated.

Secrecy Again Surrounds War Game In Pacific

(International News Service)

HONOLULU, T. H., May 17.—War time secrecy, radio silence, and the isolation of the mid-Pacific today hid the movements of the "attacking force" of naval craft that swept out of Pearl Harbor Wednesday to engage in mock warfare west of here, in the most critical phase of the United States navy's vast war games.

The "white" force, numbering ten battleships, three heavily-laden airplane carriers, and dozens of cruisers, submarines and destroyers, was believed to be steaming westward, with decks cleared for action, in an attempt to break the widespread line of the "black" fleet, the major forces of which were understood to be massed near Midway Island. It was learned unofficially that the objective of the westward movement was ultimately to land an expeditionary force of marines to hold Midway Island.

Pittsburgh Man Is Injured In Crash

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 17—Clarence Maphis, 50, of Pittsburgh lay injured and imprisoned in his automobile for 12 hours before his cries for aid were answered today by a newsboy who summoned help.

His car plunged over a 30-foot embankment in Baldwin township last night. When the machine came to a stop after turning over three times, Maphis, with a fractured ankle, was so badly injured he could not escape. Rescued by Constable Welsch, he was rushed to a hospital suffering severe shock in addition to the leg injury.

Four Bandits Escape With Hosiery Mill Payroll At Norristown

By ARNO DOSCH-FLEUROT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WARSAW, May 17—Sorrowing Poland honored Marshal Josef Pilsudski with a soldiers' funeral today while the nation's armed forces paraded past his bier on densely-packed Mokotower field.

Fifteen thousand troops, led by the marshal's favorite charger, escorted Pilsudski's body through packed streets five miles from St. John's Cathedral to Mokotower field after high mass was conducted by Cardinal Karowski.

Conspicuous in the military funeral array were hundreds of nuns and priests, two cardinals, three Mohammedan priests and three rabbis. It was estimated half a million persons watched the procession which took two hours and a half to pass.

Floral offerings from foreign lands took half an hour alone to pass.

As funeral bells tolled, eight black horses clattered forward, drawing a gun-carriage bearing Pilsudski's beflagged coffin, while immediately behind walked General Ridz-Smigly, military chieftain, with veiled Madam Pilsudski on his arm.

Pilsudski's two daughters and other members of the family followed, with President Moscicki and distinguished foreign visitors, including General Hermann Wilhelm Goering of Germany, behind them.

Breach On NRA Grows Wider

Senate Filibuster Threat Becomes Evident In Washington Battle

MUST EXTEND NRA WITHIN 30 DAYS

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 17.—The breach between senate foes of the NRA and the administration widened today.

With the Blue Eagle certain of only 30 days more of life under the existing law, the possibility of the NRA structure toppling in the midst of a filibuster became increasingly evident.

An administration drive to continue the NRA with vast powers brought open threats of a senate filibuster, if necessary, to check the movement. Personal bitterness further beclouded the situation.

Donald R. Richberg, chief of the NRA, has presented the Democrats of the house ways and means committee a program which is strikingly similar to the original NRA extension plan buried by the Senate Finance committee, and it has the endorsemet of President Roosevelt.

While Richberg was assailed by senate NRA foes for "lobbying," a vigorous defense of his activities was issued by Chairman Doughton (D) of North Carolina, of the house ways and means committee.

Meantime, Ward Cheney, chairman of the industry and business committee for NRA extension, called a mass meeting here next week to back the administration. His program is similar to the recent "farmers' march" on Washington.

It was Richberg's new 7-point program, presented as a substitute for the Clark nine-months' extension resolution adopted by the senate, which angered the senate's opponents of NRA. The program included:

Two-year extension, an NRA applied to intertsate industries and those "substantially" affecting interstate business, power to the president to impose codes, use of courts to enforce fair trade practices, thus curbing code authorities, and definite provisions to prevent monopoly and preserve small enterprise.

Senate NRA foes were intent on limiting NRA to interstate business. Richberg, apparently, regards his plan as the heart of the NRA fight since the president has approved it.

Asks City To Drain Property

Paper Mill Section Resident Says Section Has Been Forgotten

Ira D. Campbell, resident of the Paper Mill district, today sent a letter to council which was read during their meeting at city hall.

The letter requested that the city arrange with the RWD to drain water from his property.

"We pay city taxes but are forgotten," the letter said.

"There are cellars in the heart of the city that cannot be drained," Councilman Davies stated.

"The city spent $50,000 on a highway to that section," Mayor Mayne added.

"File the letter," suggested Councilman Butler, and this was done.

CONFERENCE AT CITY HALL

County Commissioners Elder, Connors and Woods today visited city hall and conferred privately with members of city hall.

When asked their mission, the commissioners said they had been summoned there. Some members of council said they did not know the mission of the commissioners. They all convened in private conference following council's session.

It is believed the session is in regard to the abatement of taxes as called for by a state law.

Morgenthau Boosts Borrowing Power

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Needing additional cash, Secretary Morgenthau today boosted his weekly borrowing on short time bills to $25,000,000 in excess of the maturities.

Probably until the end of the fiscal year, June 30, the treasury will borrow $100,000,000 a week in the face of maturities of $75,000,000 and in contrast to $50,000,000 borrowing since the end of March. Owing to an excessive cash balance the treasury cut its borrowing in March to $50,000,000 thus having the effect of reducing the public debt by $25,000,000 weekly.

Ben Franklin Spring Frolic Great Success

Four Hundred Students Take Part In Annual Affair Last Night

Brilliant Production Witnessed By Crowd Of Parents And Friends

Mother Goose Land was transplanted to the stage of the Benjamin Franklin junior high school last night, and, while a large crowd of parents and friends laughed and applauded, the Goose-Landers, about 400 of them, presented a delightful diversified entertainment of song and dance.

From the opening chorus to the final curtain the school's annual spring frolic superb and received a great big hand from the pleased audience. It was light, colorful, well directed, and full of that vim and verve that only a very interested and well trained cast can give.

Remember Jack and Jill, and Mistress Mary, Quite Contrary, and Little Boy Blue? They were all there at the grand reunion in Part I last night, just as were the Crooked Man and the cat, dog, dish, spoon, cow and moon that got so mixed up in that Hey Diddle Diddle ditty.

Part 2 was devoted to the adventures of the pirates. The right atmosphere was created by the school orchestra in a rendition of "Mysterioso" and the pirates had no trouble in maintaining it. They presented a fantastic pirate play in which the ghost of Captain Blackbird appears and to top an excellent thing off the pirate chorus, in the official pirate hats, and with impressive pirate voices made another triumph.

Part 3 was something quite different in theme but just as smoothly presented as its Mother Goose and piratical predecessors. It was a brilliant spring festival with bicycles and rope jumping leading up to the May Pole dance and so to the Grand Finale.

The program outline follows:
Mother Goose Overture...Orchestra
Part I.....Mother Goose Fantasy
Chorus—Dances—Characters
Mysterioso ..... Orchestra
Part II...Adventures of the Pirates
Pirate Play
Captain Blackbird's Dance
Pirate Chorus
"Three Trees" ..... Orchestra
Part III ..... Spring Novelties
Chorus—Rope Jumping
Bicycle Riding—May Pole
Finale ..... Entire Company
Exixt March ..... Orchestra

These directors and student aids deserve much of the credit for the success of the frolic:

Five More Are Held For Court

More Hearings Of Men Taken In Recent Numbers Raids Held

YOUNGSTOWN MAN FORFEITS BAIL OF $300

Five alleged numbers writers were held for court, two were discharged, one decision was reserved, and one had his bail forfeited for non-appearance Thursday afternoon in the court of Alderman James C. Brice. All of the ones held renewed their bail of $300.

Paul D'Anna, of Youngstown, O., was the one whose bail was forfeited. When arrested on May 3 he furnished $300 cash bail. Called for hearing Thursday he did not appear and after the usual formalities, District Attorney Mont L. Ailey asked that his bail be forfeited. Alderman Brice so declared it.

The two discharged from custody were James O'Rourke and William Hite. O'Rourke and Hite were discharged at the suggestion of the district attorney who said that while appearance alone in the Lennox club would be sufficient to hold if it were proved that the law had been violated there, he felt that there was nothing else against them. Private Rothwell had testified that he had arrested the two men but had found nothing on them. Decision was reserved in J. A. Hellstern's case.

J. Harold Woods and J. A. Buckner were held for the June term of court when Private Henechek of the state police, testified he had found numbers and money on them.

The three men arrested in an automobile enroute to Youngstown, O., Louis De Robbio, Tony Ross and Rocco Mancini, were held. Private Knudson testified that he had arrested them in an automobile north of New Castle in which car was found three bags of number slips and a small sum of money. In Mancini's pocket was found a tape from an adding machine showing notations as to what numbers paid only 300 to 1 and what paid 500 to 1. They were held.

Athlete's Foot!

A form of ringworm, highly infectious, with intolerable itching and burning; cracking and peeling off of the skin; blisters. Take no chances. If your toes itch the least bit, go after them at once with a powerful antiseptic, like Emerald Oil. Rub your feet every night and morning with the oil—it isn't greasy and does not stain. One bottle is usually enough to clear up the infection, says Eckerd's Drug Store. Money back if it doesn't.

NEW CASTLE AND GLASSPORT PLAY TONIGHT

Final Spring Game Will Be Unfolded

Sports Festival Will Be Held In Connection With Football Game

Activities To Start At 7:45 O'clock, Eastern Standard Time

Glassport High School football team will play New Castle High football team tonight at Taggarts Stadium (weather permitting) at 8 o'clock Eastern Standard time. The game has thrice been postponed on account of weeping skies and wet turf. New Castle fans will witness another spectacular sports festival tonight. The activities will start at 7:45 o'clock E. S. T.

Despite three previous postponements there is intense interest in the game about to be unfolded here Glassport High won the Class B championship last year and are bent on taking the measure of the "Red Hurricanes" of New Castle High, the Class AA champs last year.

Fighting Mad

There will no doubt be several new faces in the New Castle High team tonight. The coaches are not at all satisfied with the manner in which the boys performed last Friday night against Scott Hi of Braddock. Two defeats in two straight games rankled the Pa Newcians and they will be fighting mad tonight.

Glassport High will bring a light and fast team to New Castle. The Glassportians are all steamed up about this big battle and will come here in full battle array.

Tupmblers-Wrestlers

Emmett Gillaspie of Ben Franklin Junior High will open the program tonight with a wrestling exhibition by his young charges and will also present a few more intricate tumbling acts. These boys are really good and deserve a big hand for their efforts.

Dan Carroll of George Washington Junior High has been drilling his young girl students for the past several weeks and promises something unique and beautiful in the way of mass drilling. About 110 young girls will take part in this event. This promises to be one of the outstanding features on the night's program.

The first half of the Glassport-New Castle grid game will follow the Washington High drill.

Beautiful Drills

During the intermission of the game, Miss Margaret "Peg" Fisher, of Ben Franklin Junior High, will have the young girls of the shool at her command in a beautiful American Flag drill, at the conclusion of which everyone will stand and sing "America."

Many weeks of preparation have been spent on the program for tonight and the fans are going to see some of the loveliest of drills and intricate marching.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner is anxiously scanning the skies today, hoping for a "break" in the weather. The tickets for the game tonight are the same as for the other two spring night games, at 10, 25, 35 and 50.

Following are the probable lineups for the game tonight, with New Castle players wearing black jerseys with white numerals, and the Glassport team arrayed in scarlet jerseys with white numerals.

Shoot At Bessemer Saturday Afternoon

Announcement is made that a trap shoot will be held on Saturday afternoon at the Bessemer Rod and Gun club grounds at Bessemer, for all who care to participate. Indications are that a large number of lovers of this sport will be present.

Soft Ball Notes

HOT MILL WALLOPERS

The Hot Mill Wallopers have entered a team in the tin mill soft ball league this year. The coach of the team is Adam Pzenny . The following will comprise the team: Jim Abraham, Tubby Ruha, Joe Campoli, Frank Ludwick, Mike Johns, Walter Smith, Vikko Johnson, Joe Plonka, Bert Price, Jim Marsh, Carl Sniezek, Frank Kibish, Roy Tanner, John Palmer and Mike Toney. All of the above players will meet Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Adam Pzenny.

AUDIAS TO PLAY

The Audia soft ball team will be uniformed by Sam "Doc" Audia, and the following players are asked to report tonight at the B. & O. field at 5 o'clock for a practice game: T. Pisula, E. Ascione, F. Tuscano, Tony Ross, T. DeGilio, J. Tuscano, Tom Rozzi, V. Sands, G. Rozzi, L. Curstone and J. Marcella. The Audias will play at Dean park field at 9:30 a. m. on Saturday.

GET RESULTS IN

All soft ball teams in the city, either in leagues or not, are asked to cooperate with the New Castle News sport department by getting the results of games into The News office immediately after each game is played. This is especially true of games played in the city soft ball league, where a standing is necessary. Be interested enough to see that the scores are printed in the paper.

Baseball Notes

CENTRAL A. C. TO MEET

Central A. C. baseball team will hold a practice session Saturday afternoon at the North Highland field at 2:30 o'clock Daylight Time. The following players are asked to report: N. Sheen, R. Baldwin, Grimm, R. Cannon, W. Cannon, Chill, Kelliher, Thomas, Brooks, Lemley, Marlin, Shaffer, H. Marshall, and Marsh. The Central A. C. will open the season next week by meeting the East Brook A. A. at East Brook at 7 o'clock Daylight Time. Games are wanted with Ryantown, Colonials, Polish Falcons and others. Call 1256-W and ask for "Red" Marsh.

Lawrence Loop To Open Today

Bessemer And Hillsville To Start Season In Twilight Tilt

TWO GAMES CARDED FOR CITY SATURDAY

Today marks the opening of the thirteenth season of the Lawrence County Baseball League, Bessemer having been assigned to play Hillsville at Hillsville, and indications are there'll be a big crowd of fans turn out to witness the inaugural.

Manager Pep, of Hillsville, has assigned either Riley or Pep to pitch and Galicia to catch, while Manager Martin, of Bessemer, will send Olsen to the mound and Vahl behind the bat. It is planned to start the game promptly at 6 p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

This will be the only game in the league today, but four games will be played Saturday afternoon. Two of them will be in the city and the other two will be played on non-city plots. Most of the baseball grounds have been repaired and the players are anxious for their first gambol.

Saturday's Card

Castlewood at Ryantown, West Pittsburg at Carbon, American Sheet & Tin Plate at Mahoning, and Ellwood City at Wampum.

There will be some pomp at the boosters game at Ryantown as Mayor Mayne will throw the first ball to Safety Director D. O. Davies at 3:30 p. m., fast time. Houston is slated to pitch for Castlewood, and Lamm will take the mound for Ryantown. The probable batting order follows:

Castlewood—	Ryantown—
James, rf	Herno, lf
Jackson, lf	Shaftic, ss
Hill, cf	Bunnell, 1b
Vaneman, 1b	Jewell, 3b
McMillan, 2b	Severa, c
Gall, ss	Quinn, 2b
Arnold, 3b	Maher, cf
Coughler, c	Hartman, rf
Houston, p	Lamm, p

The American Sheet & Tin Plate team will make its debut in the county loop by playing Mahoning on the E. & A. field Saturday at 3 p. m., slow time. Wiley Shiek will probably draw Manager Alec Black's pitching assignment while Gunnett or Paul McCullough will hurl for Mahoning.

Manager Cangie stated his lineup for Saturday will probably be: J. Picarra, 3b; N. Perrittta, 1b; C. Picarro, lf; S. McCullough, rf; Orlando, ss; Huff, 2b; Scaglione, c; and Forgione, cf. The E. & A. field is in good shape, having been rolled yesterday.

West Pittsburg will travel to Carbon Saturday. Manager Onicka plans to use J. Brakovitch or Tonsetic in the box and send Hughes behind the bat. It is a good guess to make that Plevnic will do the hurling honors for Carbon and Craynak will catch.

Ellwood In League

Ellwood City who left the Beaver county league to cast their lot with the Lawrence county circuit, will not have a long trip as they are scheduled to play Wampum. Ellwood City has not yet named their battery. Neither has Wampum.

At last night's meeting at the Sport Goods Store between managers and the umpires association, the managers said they could not afford to grant the request for an increase in the wages of umpires nor pay President Glitch for assigning the umpires. Managers will provide their own umpires, they stated.

Manager Alec Black of the American Sheet & Tin Plate Company, said the Rosena grounds had not yet been conditioned and it would be necessary for the Tinplaters to use Clifton Flats field as a home ground. They play Wampum there Sunday.

Castlewood will practice at Castlewood this evening, according to Manager Hogue, and Mahoning A. A. will stage a practice game this evening on the E. & A. field.

Junior Soft Ball League Proposed

A Junior Soft Ball league in New Castle affiliated with the New Castle Soft Ball Association will be organized at the "Y" Monday night at 8:30 o'clock, D. S. T. with Charles "Bugs" Walther as presiding officer.

It is expected that eight teams will enter the league as follows:—St. Andrews Crusaders, Josephs, Reliables, Strollers, Young Kangs, Pearson A. C., S. S. Castles, Ben Franklin Juniors and Croton Bucs. All teams are asked to show enough interest to have their representatives at the meeting.

The same officers as the City Soft Ball league will conduct the Junior league, with the exception that Dave Riley will be made supervising director of the league.

Runnymeade Pageant, held last June in aid of charities in the Windsor district of England, has resulted in a deficit of $2,500 because the income tax officials have demanded $10,335.

City Leaguers Start Season At Muny Last Evening

Honkonen Is Medalist As Strong Teams Start Season In Auspicious Manner

With twelve strong teams in line, the New Castle Golf league opened its season at the Municipal course last evening, Conn's Market jumping into the lead by virtue of its win over the Johnson Bronze. East Side Service, winner of the championship, took second place.

Matt Honkonen of the East Siders, was medalist of the evening, scoring a sparkling 39 on the backnine, which is a difficult feat even in mid-season. Other low scorers included Jimmy Smith, with 40; Bob Thompson, with 42; Ted Woodrow and Ed. Koonce, with 43's.

Last evening's schedule gave some of the teams a little of the edge, but as the season progresses, the teams should be battling on more even terms, and the race promises to be one of the prettiest that has ever been seen in the four years of the league.

The standing of the teams after last evening's fray, is as follows:

	W.	L.
Conn's Market	5	1
East Side Service	4½	1½
Penna. R. R.	4	2
Hardware Merchants	3½	2½
Gersons	3½	2½
Rieck-McJunkin	3	3
Reynolds, S. and M.	3	3
Shenango Works	2½	3½
Blair Strip Steel	2½	3½
New Castle News	2	4
B. and O.	1½	4½
Johnson Bronze	1	5

Clifton Flats To Abandon Team

Players Signed By Other Club; South Side To Back Team

Inasmuch as most of their players have been signed by Castlewood, American Sheet & Tin Plate and other baseball clubs in the Lawrence county baseball league, Acting Manager Widel of Clifton Flats will not put a team in the field this season.

The team was to have been supported by the merchants of the south side but instead the Slovak A. C. will represnt the merchants this season. The officials of the ball club and the merchants, it is reported, will soon decide upon what name the team will be given.

George Mehalic, business manager of the Slovak A. C., said the team will use the Clifton Flats field as a home ground.

Four Churches Tied For Lead

First U. P., Highland, East Side And First M. E. "B" Lead Church League

OFFUTT-FOSTER ARE MEDALISTS

W. J. Offutt and Jim Foster were medalists last night in the New Castle church league matches at Castle Hills course with brilliant 39 scores. Four teams are tied for the leadership at the present time, with two matches already played in the league. The First U. P., Highland U. P., East Side churches and First M. E. "B" team head the parade.

Croton-Tolans Game Postponed

The scheduled city soft ball league game tonight between the Croton Progressives and the Tolan A. C. has been postponed until a later date. This postponement was granted by President Charles "Bugs" Walther. The game was set for Washington field.

Wampum High Wins County Baseball League Championship At Bessemer

Wampum high school baseball team went to Bessemer yesterday afternoon and took the county championship in their division 1 to 0 over the Bessemer high team coached by Fredericks. The game was a pitching battle with Fontana of Wampum having the better of Havatin of Bessemer.

Each team had but three hits, in a hard and close fought encounter. Fontana had five strikeouts while Havatin had four whiff the air.

Martin of Wampum was the hero of the game with a scorching single that drove in Novalesi with the only run of the game in the second inning.

St. Andrews And Croton Deadlock

St. Andrews and the Croton Progressives played a 6-6 tie game at Gaston park last night in the city soft ball league. The game will be played over at a later date.

The game had to be called at the end of the ninth on account of darkness. Price and Macaluso were the opposing pitchers, with Pascarella relieving Price in the eighth inning.

Pirates-Indians Suffer Defeats

Brooklyn Hands Pittsburgh 2 To 0 Setback — Yanks Trim Cleveland, 10-0

By PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK, May 17.—Some remarkable pitching performances have been turned in by rookies this year. Johnny Whitehead of the White Sox, Johnny Babich of the Dodgers, Vito Tamulis of the Yankees, and Darrell Blanton of the Pirates, have earned their major league spurs with exhibitions of class that left nothing to be desired.

But some of the oldtimers, making up for the power they've lost from their arms by the cunning and knowledge they've gained through the years, have been equally effective in spots.

Pirates Lose

Witness, for instance, the great game turned in by those two ancients of the mound, Waite Hoyt and Tom Zachary, in Pittsburgh yesterday. Neither of these old birds can throw a ball hard enough to knock off your hat but they have great control, 100 per cent knowledge of the hitters, and plenty of heart.

Using these assets, the two former Yankees battled 13 innings before Old Uncle Tom brought home the bacon, 2 to 0.

The Pirates made a dozen hits off Old Tom, but none of them when they would have done any damage. The two teams might have been playing yet had not Vaughn's error paved the way for Hoyt's downfall. Two of the nine Dodgers hits followed and the game was over.

Indians Defeated

Another shut-out yesterday went to Vito Tamulis, the Yankees' stocky left-hander who trimmed the Willis Hudlin and his brother Indians, 10 to 0. The young Lith has yet to be beaten.

In the only other major league game of the day. The Tigers beat the Senators, 7 to 2, with Tom Bridges working against Bump Hadley. Perhaps it would be more accurate to say the Senators beat themselves for they made six errors to discount Hadley's eight-hit pitching. However, the Senators might have lost in any event for they could make but six hits off Bridges and couldn't score until the ninth.

THE RED BIRDS OF 1933.

It is rather unusual when anything is written about a minor league baseball team, but then the Columbus Red Birds, 1933 American association and junior world series champions, were a remarkable squad of players. It had class, balance, youth, experience, color, pep, speed and power all wrapped in one package of players.

In 1933 Manager Ray Blades, himself a former outfielder star of the Cardinals, gave to Columbus citizens their first pennant-winning team since 1907. The Red Birds had things all their own way in winning the flag, taking permanent possession of first place on May 17, and finishing the campaign 15½ games ahead of their closest rivals, the Minneapolis Millers.

Nothing could stop the team that season. The squad was torn asunder early in June after charges had been filed by other club owners, alleging that the Columbus club was guilty of salary violations. They denied the charges, and the denials were later supported by the report of Judge W. G. Bramham, commissioner of the minors. Nevertheless, the parent St. Louis club insisted on an overnight shakeup.

Art (What-a-man) Shires, Jim Lindsey, Charley Wilson and Fred (Sheriff) Blake were sent to Rochester, and Gordon Slade was recalled. With that housecleaning by the Cardinal front office the bulwark of the team was removed on a minute's notice. However, Burgess Whitehead, Benny Borgmann, Mickey Heath, Jim Winford and Ed Heusser moved in and the team kept right on winning.

During the course of the season the team had on its mound staff such veterans as Ralph Judd, Jim Lindsey, Bud Teachout and Sheriff Blake. All were in the twilight of their careers but still able to win in a Double A minor loop. They had all previously performed in the majors, Blake having set an enviable record with the Chicago Cubs.

Paul Dean, now one of the game's ranking stars, was the leading pitcher in the league. Bill Lee, now a mainstay of the Chicago Cub staff, chalked up twenty-one victories. Clarence Heise, who had a brief stay with the Cards, had the best won-and-lost average in the American association.

Jim Lindsey, who had an in-and-out major league career, won ten and lost six during his brief period with the Red Birds. Ward Cross and Ed Heusser were the juveniles of the staff. Now the former is a star with Rochester and the latter is a member of the Cardinal firing line.

The catching department had everything. The veteran Mike Gonzales, who had a lengthy and remarkable major league career, provided steadiness, headwork and balance, and also coached the young pitchers. The youthful Bill Delancey did most of the receiving, however, and provided a major portion of the team's long-distance clouting.

First base was handled by Art Shires until his transfer to Rochester, and then Mickey Heath took care of the sack. Both had previously performed regularly in the majors, Shires with the White Sox and Washington, and Heath with Cincinnati.

Burgess Whitehead performed at second most of the season, but Charley Wilson and Andy High also played there for a time. A .346 batting average and steady fielding made possible by an unusually large pair of hands earned Whitehead a place with the Cards.

Charley Wilson followed a year later and is now a reserve infielder with the Frisch team. Andy High was a veteran of many major league campaigns.

Gordon Slade and Benny Borgmann were the shortstops, the former in 45 games and the latter in 88. Slade is now a member of the Cincinnati Reds and Borgmann is managing one of the St. Louis farm clubs.

Borgmann had a brief major league career but might have been a star of top ranking had he concentrated on baseball instead of basketball. Up until a few years ago Benny was one of the best basketball players in the country, and baseball to him was just something to do until the cage season commenced.

Lew Riggs, now a member of the Cincy Reds, was on third base from start to finish. He was quite a clouter, having 26 doubles, a dozen triples, and the same number of home runs.

The outfield was made up of Nick Cullop and Harold Anderson, veterans, and Jack Rothrock, a converted infielder obtained from the Chicago Whitesox. Cullop played in the majors with Brooklyn while Rothrock is now the regular right fielder with the St. Louis Nationals.

There are now ten members of the 1933 Red Birds who have jobs in the majors, while four others have had brief major league trials.

The amusing importance of smoking a cigar comes from the story of Bismarck who, attending a military conference in the days when Austria ranked higher than Germany, found only the president, an Austrian, smoking, the others not daring to do so. Bismarck calmly lighted up his cigar and the others apparently attached such significance to the matter that they wrote home for instructions.

Stock Market Soars Upward

Inflationary Enthusiasm Dominates Stock Market, Prices Highest In Four Years

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 17.—With inflationary enthusiasm again dominating the stock market today, the main body of shares pushed ahead to new 1935 highs and the best prices since November 1931.

Trading was fast and gains ran to more than a point.

Anaconda was again the outstanding strong spot rising nearly a point to its best price in more than a year.

Lower priced oils including Consolidated, Shell Union, Tidewater, as well as the higher priced issues such as Standard Oil of N. J., Texas Corp., and Continental were in demand and scored moderate gains.

Industrials were well taken under the leadership of U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and American Can.

Utilities developed strength after hesitancy and Consolidated Gas set the pace with a gain of nearly a point.

Railroad shares, though, were sluggish and failed to make any headway. N. Y. Central opened slightly higher and then eased while other carrier shares gave similar performances.

Tobaccos, food, aviation, chemical and liquor moved upward in unison with the rest of the market.

Rotarians Hear Two Fine Talks

Dr. Charles Z. Bell And W. Boyd Barrett Address Local Club Thursday

ELLWOOD CITY, May 17.—Two splendid talks were heard by the members of the Ellwood City Rotary Club at their weekly meeting in the First Presbyterian church Thursday night.

The first speaker was Dr. Charles Z. Bell, chairman of the board of directors of the Ellwood City hospital, who gave a very interesting history of the development of the present hospital system here. He reviewed its activities and equipment and, much to the surprise of those present, related that some of the members of the board might be embarassed because of the present financial status of the hospital. The speaker told of the founding of the hospital and its rapid development until today it is rated by the State Health Department as one of the best equipped, maintained and managed hospitals in its class in the state of Pennsylvania.

Other interesting facts were brought out by Dr. Bell which will appear in these columns tomorrow.

W. Boyd Barrett was the second speaker of the evening, and in keeping with the observance of National Insurance Week gave a graphic picture of the value of life insurance in providing future income. Taking as his theme, "The Logic of Life Insurance", Mr. Barrett showed how life insurance keeps the young man reminded of his obligation to the old man he will be some day, and help the young man keep this money and not spend it. The logic of life insurance was shown in several ways. It helps the young man invest his money; it earns compound interest; and most of all, it liquidates itself when the emergency arises for the full amount it guaranteed to pay when started, and it does make up the obligation of the breadwinner to his family.
